PROOF OF ENGLISH PROFICIENCY

Some acceptable methods of verifying that the exchange visitor has sufficient proficiency in English to participate in his or her program:

- Adequate scores on English proficiency tests such as IBT TOEFL, IELTS, and TOEIC, or scores on other standardized tests in English such as GRE and GMAT
- Interview(s) with the exchange visitor by faculty at the sponsoring institution who determine that the exchange visitor has sufficient English proficiency. The interview must be conducted either in-person or by videoconferencing, or by telephone if videoconferencing is not a viable option
- Signed documentation from an academic institution or English language school

The type of assessment that is used and the level of English proficiency that is considered sufficient will likely vary from exchange visitor to exchange visitor depending on the nature of the program undertaken in the U.S. (e.g., observation, research, and/or teaching). The exchange visitor must possess sufficient proficiency in the English language to successfully participate in his or her program and to function on a day-to-day basis.
