

What are the Majors of Diversity Studies Minors?

Communication Studies
Applied Sociology
Anthropology
Philosophy
Sociology
History
English
Spanish
Literature
Psychology
Political Science
Mass Communication

Top Reasons why you should Minor in Diversity or Women's Studies

- Expands Career Opportunities
- Enhances your value to your employer
- Broadens understanding of complex U.S. and world societies
- Enriches conversational skills
- Enhances income generating opportunities

How to Declare a Minor

You must be enrolled in a college, if not make an appointment with the appropriate college advisor to do so.

1. Make an appointment with your college's advisor to decide on a minor.
2. Determine the minor you would like to pursue, and fill out the Degree Audit Form.
3. Your Advisor will then send the forms to get approved and signed by the dean of that college and by the manager of the minor. If your advisor does not provide this service you must do so. You must schedule appointments with the appropriate signature authorizer. You can find the office numbers on the Texas State website at www.txstate.edu.
4. Turn in the Degree Audit Form, and 3-5 days later you will have declared your minor!

Come by or call if you have any questions, or visit the website at:
www.txstate.edu/mcgs

336 Flowers Hall
512-245-2361
MC GS@txstate.edu

Updated May, 2009

Advance your Career by Minor in Diversity Studies or Women's Studies

College of Liberal Arts

The Center for
Multicultural and Gender
Studies

Catch on to the trend of making diversity the standard in America today!

TEXAS  STATE
The rising STAR of Texas™

What is Diversity Studies?

The 18-hour minor provides an interdisciplinary approach to Diversity Studies. It also provides conceptual frameworks for exploring new perspectives that recover the history, creative expression, and voices previously excluded by the traditional approaches to higher education. The minor fosters students' development of self, voice, and moral vision to prepare them to live and work effectively in a pluralistic society.

"Through my Ethnic Studies minor I have gained inestimable knowledge about many ethnic communities. I highly recommend this program of study for diversity-seeking students who understand there is much to learn as we seek to create positive culture-rich change."

Gail Russell

Texas State Alumna

English major, Ethnic Studies minor

Careers in Diversity Studies

- * Foreign affairs officer
- * Legislative aide
- * Business manager
- * Lawyer
- * Community planner
- * Educator / Professor
- * Employment counselor
- * Human services worker

Careers in Women's Studies

- * Educator / Professor
- * Physician
- * Legislator
- * Lawyer
- * Advocate for domestic violence survivors
- * Social worker
- * Counselor

What is Women's Studies?

The 18-hour minor offers an interdisciplinary program that concentrates on the images and realities of women. Drawing on recent scholarship on women and gender, it provides a flexible, coherent program that enables students to consider the significance of gender.

"I was 18 years old when I married and by the age of 22 I was a single parent with 3 daughters. Eventually I enrolled at Texas State and "found" myself. Women's Studies classes helped me learn about the plight of all women, and I found out it was okay to be me. As the Assistant Director of Multicultural Affairs at Texas State I counsel women of all backgrounds."

Jonnie Wilson

Assistant Director, Multicultural Student Affairs

Texas State University- San Marcos

Texas State University-San Marcos is a member of the Texas State University System.