Required: Pre-Semester Start-Up Assignments (Student Teachers AND Interns)

Welcome to your Student Teaching semester! During this semester you will experience quite a bit of learning and growth that will prepare you to effectively plan for, teach, and manage your very own classroom in the near future. However, you will also need to engage in some learning and "to-dos" prior to the start of the semester, to prepare you for all you will need to know and need to be able to do once your placement starts.

The four required Start-Up Assignments are outlined below. All of these must be completed prior to your Student Teaching or Internship Orientation Meeting (scheduled with your Faculty Supervisor) the week prior to the start of the semester. Please reach out to the Office of Educator Preparation at oep@txstate.edu with any questions you have regarding these assignments.

START-UP ASSIGNMENT 1: The Student Teaching Syllabus
The syllabus for this semester outlines critical course information and contains a few action items for you to complete. You will also find a general semester calendar within the syllabus which outlines what your semester will look like.

	for Clinical Teaching tab
	This should be downloaded and saved for future reference.
WHO	BOTH Student Teachers and Interns must review the syllabi. It is the same for both groups.
TO DO	Read through the syllabus.
	Mark pages, make notes, highlight, etc.
	 Make note of important dates using the calendar provided.
	 Record any questions you have for your Faculty Supervisor to be addressed at your upcoming Orientation Seminar.
DUE BY	Must be completed PRIOR to the Orientation Seminar.

START-UP ASSIGNMENT 2: Handbook Review
The Essential Student Teaching Handbook is the guiding document for Student Teachers.
The Internship Handbook is the guiding document for Interns. In the handbook, you will find information related to your placement(s), your roles, and your responsibilities for this semester. You will also find information about the support provided to you this semester, as well as important policy information.
MATERIALS	The Handbooks below are available on Office of Educator Preparation
	Website under the Resources for Clinical Teaching tab.
	Student Teachers: The Essential Student Teaching Handbook
