

Instructions: This form is to be completed in English by both the student applicant and the applicant's financial sponsor. Please type or print clearly in ink. All requested information must be provided. Additional information may be provided on a separate sheet. A bank statement printed on official bank letterhead with a bank official's signature must accompany this document. The content should be in English and the available funds must be converted to U.S. dollars. Documents older than 3 months are not accepted.

Immigration regulations require prospective international F-1 Students to show proof of financial responsibility to study in the United States for at least one academic year. You must present reliable documentation that you have financial resources adequate to meet expenses while studying at Texas State.

Your documentation should show that you have enough readily available funds to meet all expenses for the first year of study and that, barring unforeseen circumstances, adequate funding will be available for each subsequent year of study from the same source, or from one or more other specifically identified and reliable financial sources.

You will have to present your financial support documents when you apply for a visa, and again when you arrive in the United States. The consular officer will first look at the expense and funding estimates on your Form I-20, and then assess the sufficiency of your financial support documentation. The consular officer must be "satisfied" that the funding exists and is sufficient. Please note that providing false information to a U.S. government official may result in an indefinite bar from entering the United States.

Your funds may come from any dependable source, including scholarships, fellowships, sponsoring agencies, personal funds, or funds from your family.

- Documentation of scholarships and fellowships may be in the form of an official award letter from Texas State or a sponsoring agency;
- Documentation of personal or family funds should be on bank letterhead stationery.

Texas State makes a reasonable estimate of all expenses--including tuition, fees, books, supplies, maintenance (lodging and food), health insurance, taxes, and miscellaneous expenditures (clothing, local travel, recreation, toiletries, telephone, etc.).
