Scenario 1

• Bradley Cooper signed a lease starting in January and ending in December. His landlord decides that she wants to sell the property in May. She sends Bradley a lease amendment releasing him of all obligations under the lease, but he fails to sign it. The sale listing stated that the sale was subject to the lease. When the landlord goes under contract to sell the house, she gives him a 3-day notice to vacate and files an eviction afterwards.

1. Would your court grant this eviction? Why or why not?
2. Does Bradley have an obligation to sign the lease amendment?
3. If the sale goes through, what is the new owner's relationship to Bradley?
4. Would the situation change if the landlord gave him $700 when she sent him the lease amendment? Would that raise any issues?

6

6

Scenario 2

- Emma Stone is renting a house, but the homeowner/landlord failed to pay the mortgage, leading to foreclosure. The bank now owns the house and wants Emma to leave.

1. Should Emma be forced to leave because the homeowner did not pay the mortgage?
2. Do you need more information? Is so, what?
3. Should the bank give Emma more time to find another place to live?
4. What if this was a commercial tenancy?

7

Scenario 3

- Jolie had an eviction suit for nonpayment of rent filed against her. Plaintiff was awarded possession, $5,000 in back rent, and $300 in late fees. Jolie tried to appeal the decision the same day it was issued by filing a Statement of Inability to Pay. The judge told Jolie that she would not accept the Statement to appeal unless Jolie paid money into the court registry by the end of that same day.

1. Did the judge do anything wrong here?
2. Would it change anything if Jolie appealed by filing a Cash Deposit?
3. Does the Evictions Deskbook cover these issues? Is so, on what pages?

8

Scenario 4

• Will Dafoe is being evicted for having unlawful drugs in his apartment. His total rent is $1200 monthly. He pays $400 and the local housing authority pays $800. Judge is requiring him to pay rent into the registry in the amount of $1200 for him to maintain possession of the premises during the appeal.

1. Is the judge doing anything wrong? If so, what?
2. Would anything change if reason for eviction was non-payment?
3. What if the landlord was not asking for any money in the judgment?
4. How much would you make him pay into the court registry?
5. Can that be contested? If so, describe the proper procedure.

9

Court's Required Notice (1 of 2)

- The justice court must provide a written notice to the tenant at the time the appeal bond or Statement is filed that contains the following information in bold or conspicuous type:
 - the amount of the initial deposit of rent stated in the judgment that the tenant must pay into the justice court registry;
 - whether the initial deposit must be paid in cash, cashier's check, or money order, and to whom the cashier's check or money order, if applicable, must be made payable;

10

10

Court's Required Notice (2 of 2)

- the calendar date by which the initial deposit must be paid into the justice court registry
 - for a court that closes before 5:00 p.m. on the specified date, the time the court closes;
 - and
 - a statement that failure to pay the required amount into the justice court registry by the specified date may result in the court issuing a writ of possession without a hearing.
- Property Code § 24.0053(a-1); Rule 510.9(c)(5)(A).

11

11

Special Note for This Notice

- 5-day Notice Deadline Not Extended if Court Closes Before 5PM!
 - Paying rent is not filing something with court
 - Notice provides due date and time that the court closes if before 5PM

Scenario 5

• Lief Enger rented an apartment for the past year. Recently, he became disabled due to an illness and is living off a reduced income. Lief was unable to pay rent for the last two months. The landlord has sent him a notice asking him to vacate. Lief says it is disability discrimination because he does not have the money due to the illness.

1. Is it fair for Lief to be evicted after falling behind on rent due to his illness?
2. Is he correct that this is illegal discrimination based on his disability?
3. After the suit is filed, can the landlord make a settlement agreement with Lief and what should that process look like?
4. What if he asked for a reasonable accommodation of a payment plan?

14

Scenario 6

- Janet Fitch is a single mother of two children, ages 3 and 6. Janet is also pregnant with her third child. Janet’s neighbors complain to the landlord, Michael, that there are too many children in the building, and they express additional worry about the noise Janet’s new baby will create once the baby is born.
- In response to these complaints, Michael files an eviction against Janet and cites noise complaints. Janet asserts the affirmative defense has discrimination against her family and minor children.
 1. Who would your court rule for? Are there facts not mentioned above that would influence the decision? If so, what are they?
 2. Can an apartment complex have policies that say they are an “adult only” and will refuse to rent to minor children?

Scenario 7

- Austin Butler has lived in the same apartment for 8 years. All the leases for this apartment have had a provision prohibiting pets, including the current lease. Austin deals with severe depression and has recently gotten an emotional support dog as part of treatment. Recently, the dog growled at a child who lives in the same complex, and his parents complained to the landlord. Landlord filed an eviction based on the safety of the child.
 1. Can the landlord ask for documentation of the disability and need for the emotional support animal?
 2. Can they evict based on the dog growling at a child or any other reason based around an emotional support animal?
 3. Would the outcome change if the reason for eviction was that Austin refused to pay a pet fee and deposit?

Scenario 8

• Margo Robbie received notice of lease termination on April 2nd with an effective date of May 2nd. She submits a repair request on April 3rd. She fails to move out and receives a 3-day written Notice to Vacate, and landlord files the eviction.

1. If Margo files an answer asserting retaliation for the repair request, would that defense be successful?
2. What are the rules for asserting a retaliation defense in an eviction? Where can you find the rules in the Deskbook?

19

Scenario 9

• Paul Giamatti has an oral month-to-month agreement with his landlord. The landlord charges $1,000 per month and says if rent is paid more than 3 days late, there will be an additional $50 per week. Paul has paid rent 4 days late for the past 3 months. The landlord gives him notice of the $150 due and gives a deadline for payment due in one month. A month goes by, and Paul does not pay the late fees. However, he was not late paying rent this month.

1. Are the late fees reasonable here? Is there a TX Property Code Section on late fees for residential tenants?
2. Can the landlord evict Paul for nonpayment of late fees?
3. Does the landlord have any other remedies?
