

Psychology Majors: Get real-world experience while earning college credit.

Texas State and Podium Education invite you to join The Global Career Accelerator, where you can add real-world experience to your resume and get access to an exclusive career network. Plus, this summer and fall the program fulfills internship credit toward your Psychology Major requirements!

Gain valuable exposure and experience with leading companies:

What is it?

This 3 credit online program, course code PSY 4396, allows you to earn internship credit towards your Psychology degree. It gives you a career head-start by filling your resume with real-world experience and learn in-demand skills applicable to any industry—all while earning impressive certifications.

How does it work?

Work on real-world projects and field experiences with top organizations like The Grammys, Intel, and Charity: Water. Guided by industry experts from companies like Zillow, Google, and NASA, you'll tackle challenges through live team sessions and on-demand virtual content. With 1:1 support and credentials that enhance your resume and LinkedIn, The Global Career Accelerator prepares you to land top roles and jumpstart your career.

Why is it for psychology students?

You will apply psychological concepts and research to real-world contexts, gain in-demand experience, and broaden your understanding of how Psychology can be applied across various industries and careers.

Is it worth it?

94% of graduates say they would recommend the program and 2 out of 3 students say that it was one of the most valuable things they did in college. It is one of the only programs where you can earn psychology internship credit, get exposure to practical work experience, and get access to an exclusive career network with professional opportunities and internships.

Discover your ideal track for success:

Digital Marketing

Coding for Data

Career Rotation

Data Analytics

Web Development for Everyone