Experiences in Social Work

The bachelor of social work is completed in three phases. Any student may declare the social work major and is required to complete a minimum of 45 hours in a specified degree plan before submitting a formal application to the second phase. Upon successful completion of coursework in the second phase, the social work student may apply to the third and final phase, field education (internship). Scholarships, internships, and dedicated student organizations are among the many opportunities within the program.
