Biographical Notes

Born in Texas in 1937, historian Marc Simmons began his love for New Mexico when he was just a teenager while vacationing with his family. After graduating from the University of Texas at Austin, he continued on to graduate school at the University of New Mexico, studying the Spanish colonial period of New Mexico. Simmons began his career as an author in the late 1960s and continued on for decades, concentrating on the colonial southwest and figures such as Kit Carson and Billy the Kid. As the author wrote some 45 books and a weekly newspaper column on history that's appeared for thirty years, Simmons has become New Mexico's best-known historian. Among his many honors, Simmons has been knighted by the King of Spain for his writings on Spanish Colonial history in the Southwest.

Simmons lived in a house he built, writing all his books on a manual typewriter because he chose to live without electricity and other modern conveniences. Simmons was internationally recognized as an authority on Spanish Colonial New Mexico, the Santa Fe Trail, the life and times of Kit Carson, and the Spanish documentary records that are the source for so many of his writings. He was known for his determination to write narrative history for general readers rather than speaking strictly to a scholarly audience.

Simmons began donating his papers to the The Wittliff Collections in 2008 and continued so for a decade. He died in September of 2023 at the age of 86.

Scope and Contents

Accession 2008-131

Material includes manuscripts, page proofs, correspondence, and Simmons' collection of ephemera related to the photographer Craig Varjebedian. Original file titles appear in quotation marks. While the majority of the material is in fair condition, it is gritty and some pages are extremely dry and brittle.

Accession 2009-032

The following donated material pertains to the 400th anniversary of the founding of New Mexico by Juan de Oñate and the subsequent controversy that followed the presentation of the Oñate statue. Material consists of various newspapers, newspaper clippings, manuscript of "Spanish Pathways", a poster and other information on the Galisto Basin Photography Project, and a collection of index cards with book information on Simmons' personal library. [note: an individual database on the library books will be completed soon]

Accession 2010-043

Material includes samples of Spanish language newspapers of New Mexico, newspapers and other promotional/advertisement publications dealing with architecture of the region, and other aspects of regional culture such as art, religion, and folk craft; drafts of newspaper columns written by Simmons on John Houser, sculptor of El Paso's Equestrian/Orñate statue, other Houser material, and a DVD The Last Conquistador: An Artist, A Dream, A Nightmare about the Orñate sculptor.

Accession 2012-072

Research and editorial material for Juan Domínguez de Mendoza: Soldier and Frontiersman of the Spanish Southwest, 1627-1693, edited by France V. Scholes, Marc Simmons, and José Antonio Esquibel, and translated by Eleanor B. Adams. Includes the original 1928 photostat made from the Spanish National Archive in Madrid of the Domínguez documents.

Original Accession 2013-110 / was Loan 2014-004.

Gifted by Simmons in 2015/2016. Within this collection is extensive research and historical documents primarily focused on the southwest region. It consists of a variety of materials including correspondence, research documents, memorabilia, figurines, posters, maps, and books. Just some of the many topics covered include: establishing the Santa Fe Trail Association; material related to Simmons work as a historical consultant for El Rancho de las Golondrinas and the “Josefina” American Girl book series; material related to the archeological controversy over the “Los Esteros” site at Santa Rosa; research documents related to Concha Ortiz y Pino; New Mexico statehood; Juan Dominguez de Mendoza; the Columbus Quincentenary Controversy; Lipan Apaches; Los Alamos; the Glorieta Pass Battlefield; and Albuquerque history.

Accessions 2015-172 and 2016-027

The majority of materials consist of subject files covering New Mexico and the US West from colonial period until modern times. Subject files may contain notes and drafts by Simmons and others, correspondence between Simmons and others, photographs, clippings, and articles; though some files are quite small. Several binders labeled “Marc Simmons Collection” have extensive coverage of the person or subject, including biographical information, correspondence, images, writings, and clippings. Well-documented subjects include the Santa Fe Trail and the Santa Fe Trail Association, Kit Carson, and ironwork and farriership. Well-documented people include Jack Schaefer, Lawrence Clark Powell, David J. Weber, Mark Gardner, John Nichols, Elmer Kelton, Fray Angelico Chavez, Jose Cisneros, Max Evans, Ben K.
