Our goal in the College of Education is for 100% of our students to be certified prior to graduation. Here are a few reasons why completing exams prior to graduation is important for your career:

- 1) Start Teaching Sooner
You can apply for your teaching certificate right after graduation and begin working right away.
- 2) Less Stress Later
No need to juggle job hunting or working as a teacher while trying to pass exams.
- 3) More Job Options
Schools prefer to hire teachers who are already certified—being ready gives you an edge.
- 4) You'll Have More Support
While you're still in school, you have access to professors, study groups, and prep resources.
- 5) It Shows You're Ready
Passing your exams proves to schools—and yourself—that you're prepared and serious about teaching.
