Do the outside investment advisors or managers have the authority to make investment decisions without obtaining prior approval?

Managers have the authority to make investment decisions within their asset class and according to TSUS investment policy guidelines, without obtaining prior approval. The Investment Consultant has no investment authority.

2. Does the institution use soft dollar, directed brokerage or directed commission, commission recapture, or similar arrangements (these arrangements typically involve using brokerage commissions as a means of paying for other related investment services through credits of a portion of brokerage commissions paid rather than through direct payments, or using selected brokers who will rebate a portion of commissions they receive on trades for the investor)? If the answer to this question is yes, the institution must summarize briefly the guidelines that govern the use of such arrangements.

Balyasny Asset Management (“BAM”) has entered into Client Commission Arrangements with several tier-1 broker-dealers, as well as Instinet and Bloomberg. These relationships are intended to facilitate access to investment research. All soft dollar relationships must be approved by the Execution and Compliance teams. The Firm requires that any soft dollar arrangements fall within the safe harbor for soft dollars created by Section 28(e) of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Balyasny Asset Management (UK) LLP, a MiFID firm (“BAM UK”), utilizes a Research Payment Account for research payments. The budget is set, taking into account the investment teams’ forecasted research needs, historical consumption, pricing negotiation with research providers, as well as anticipated growth in investment teams. BAM UK’s budget is approved by BAM, which in turn reviews the global budget with the relevant fund boards at least once a year.

3. Is the institution associated with an independent endowment or foundation? If the answer to this question is yes, the institution must provide contact information (name and address) for the individual[s] who manage the independent endowment or foundation. The institution must also provide, if available, the market value of the endowment’s or foundation’s investments. Yes
