

The Wittliff Collections

Guide to the A. C. Greene Papers

1967-1969–1973

Collection SWWC-017

Descriptive Summary

Creator:	Greene, A. C., 1923-2002
Title:	Guide to the A. C. Greene Papers
Dates:	1967-1969–1973
Abstract:	Seven folders of works, published materials, photographs, correspondence, cards, and programs highlight the work of A.C. Greene.
Identification:	SWWC-017
Extent:	1 boxes, .5 Linear Feet
Language:	English
Repository:	The Wittliff Collections, Texas State University

Table Of Contents

Biographical Notes	3
Scope and Contents	4
Administrative Information	5
Conditions Governing Access	5
Conditions Governing Use	5
Immediate Source of Acquisition	5
Physical Location	5
Preferred Citation	5
Controlled Access Headings	5
Detailed Description of the Collection	6
Series I: Works , 1967, 1969, 1973, undated	6
Series II: Photographs, 1968	6
Series III: Cards and programs, 1969, undated	6

Biographical Notes

Alvin Carl Greene (1923-2002) was born and raised in Abilene, Texas. He left Texas during World War II and served in the U.S. Navy and Marines. After a four-year stint in the military, Greene received a B.A. from Abilene Christian College in 1948 and began working as a reporter for the Abilene Reporter-News. He remained on the staff for 12 years and also ran a bookstore in Abilene from 1952 to 1957.

In 1960, Greene joined The Dallas Morning News as book editor and editorial columnist. Eight years later he left to concentrate on writing and received a Dobie-Paisano fellowship which allowed him to finish his acclaimed book, A Personal Country, in 1969. Greene went on to publish many books and articles in the 1970s and 1980s. The range of Greene's writing has been very broad, although he is closely tied to the subject of Texas. His books cover cities in Texas, historical events in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, personal reminiscences, and literary criticism. He also worked at KERA-TV in Dallas as news commentator from 1970 through 1977 and has reviewed books for the MacNeil/Lehrer News Hour. Greene taught journalism at Hardin-Simmons University, The University of Texas at Austin, and Southern Methodist University, and served as Coordinating Director of the Center for Texas Studies at the University of North Texas in Denton.

Health problems in the late 1980s kept him from writing, but after receiving a heart transplant Greene recovered and published a book, Taking Heart, about his illness. Greene was a member of PEN International, the Writers Guild of America, and the Texas Institute of Letters. He passed away in 2002.

Scope and Contents

Seven folders of works, published materials, photographs, correspondence, cards, and programs highlight the work of A.C. Greene. The collection has been divided into three series: Works (1967, 1969, 1973, undated), Photographs (1968), and Cards and Programs (1969, undated). The bulk of the collection consists of manuscripts collected by Bill Wittliff. Multiple drafts of the essay "Paisano" are included in one folder, following the work from annotated typewritten draft to television script to published work. Also of note are screenplays that Greene adapted from his books The Last Captive and The Santa Claus Bank Robbery. The collection includes published magazine articles, photographs, and cards and programs relating to Greene.

Administrative Information

Conditions Governing Access

Collection is open for research.

Conditions Governing Use

Some materials may not be photocopied without the permission of The University of Texas at Arlington.

Conditions Governing Use

Materials from the Wittliff Collections are made available for use in research, teaching, and private study. The user assumes responsibility for determining copyright status, obtaining permission to publish, and abiding by U.S. copyright laws.

<https://www.thewittliffcollections.txstate.edu/research/visit/policies/publication.html>

Immediate Source of Acquisition

Donation from Bill Wittliff and A.C. Greene from 1988 to 1993.

Physical Location

Materials may be stored off-site. Advance notice is required for use:

<https://www.thewittliffcollections.txstate.edu/research/makearesearchappointment.html>

Preferred Citation

A.C. Greene Papers. The Wittliff Collections, Texas State University.

Controlled Access Headings

- American journalists
- Authors, American -- Texas -- 20th century
- Historians -- Texas

Detailed Description of the Collection

Series I: Works , 1967, 1969, 1973, undated

Box Folder

1	1	"Paisano," draft of essay, television script, and published pamphlet, undated
1	2	Essays, includes television script of piece on Luckenbach, Texas, "Appreciating the Diversity of Texas" (a speech delivered at the Texas State Historical Association Meeting), an essay on J. Frank Dobie, the original draft of "The Highland Park Woman," and a television copy of a story about Christmas, undated
1	3	"The Deadly Season," a screenplay based on the book The Santa Claus Bank Robbery, undated
1	4	"The Last Captive," carbon of submitted script, undated
1	5	Magazine and journal articles, includes "God in West Texas," in The Arlington Quarterly (Autumn 1967), "The Durable Society: Austin in the Reconstruction," in The Southwestern Historical Quarterly (April 1969), and "The Perfect Christmas," in McCall's (December 1973), 1967, 1969, 1973

Series II: Photographs, 1968

1	6	Photos of Greene taken while he was the second Paisano fellow, February 1968
---	---	------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Series III: Cards and programs, 1969, undated

1	7	Program from the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art (1969) and a Christmas card, 1969, undated
---	---	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------