The College of Liberal Arts provides students with the foundation for a liberal education, preparing graduates to think independently, to choose freely, to base personal and professional decisions on a broad understanding of history and culture, and to live full, rewarding lives. Recognizing the central importance of liberal education, the university requires that more than fifty percent of the general education core curriculum be taken in the College of Liberal Arts, and students increasingly declare majors or minors in one of the college's nine departments or special programs.

The College of Liberal Arts offers the Bachelor of Arts in each of its nine departments—Anthropology, English, Geography, History, Modern Languages, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology. The Bachelor of Science is awarded in Psychology and in Geography. The college also offers three special degrees: the Bachelor of Science in Applied Sociology (BSAS), the Bachelor of Arts in International Studies (BAIS), and the Bachelor of Public Administration (BPA). The college houses eight interdisciplinary minors: Media Studies, Medieval and Renaissance Studies, Nature and Heritage Tourism, Religious Studies, Southwestern Studies, U. S. Ethnic Studies, Value Studies, and the Women's Studies minor. The college provides education not only in the traditional humanities but also in the practical application of the humanities to professional careers.

Academic Advising Center

The Liberal Arts Advising Center works in cooperation with our departments and centers to provide academic advising information to majors or minors in the College of Liberal Arts. The Center is a resource for counseling on academic and administrative issues. Students can be informed about general education/core curriculum requirements, majors and minors, semester course selection, transfer and correspondence courses, academic probation and suspension, progress toward degree completion, and career guidance.

The staff and advisors suggest the timely completion of degree outlines and summaries, offer explanations of these documents, and assist in the process of applications for graduation. They maintain course syllabi for each semester and refer students to campus resources and support services when necessary. Advisors work closely with departments and centers in the College from new student orientation to graduation to ensure that each of our students has a successful academic career.

General Requirements for the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Arts in International Studies Degrees

Most students majoring in one of the liberal arts are awarded the BA. Students who earn the BA complete the general education courses specified by the university and the requirements of their major department. In addition, all students earning the BA must complete a minor and special requirements in English, modern languages, and science.

English: Two semesters of literature chosen from 2310, 2320, 2330, 2340, 2359, and 2360. (Students who earn a grade of “B” or above in the first sophomore course may, with permission from the chair of their major department and college dean, elect to take an advanced literature course in lieu of the second sophomore course.)

Modern Languages: A proficiency level of successful completion of French, German, Japanese, or Spanish 2310 and 2320. Most students will need to complete the first year of the language (1410 and 1420) before attempting 2310. Students with substantial previous language experience may meet their language requirement by completing as few as 6 hours at the sophomore level.

Science. One course (3-4 hours) from the departments of anthropology (ANTH 2414 only), biology, chemistry, computer science, mathematics, philosophy (PHIL 2330 only), and physics.

Director and Professor – Dunn.

In Texas and throughout the United States, demand for graduates with knowledge of international business, cultural and area studies, and language skills continues to increase. The growing movement toward intercontinental and international trade blocs, such as NAFTA and the European Union, has created a need for persons who are not only skilled in business and communications technology, but also cultural understanding and international business practices. The Bachelor of Arts in International Studies (B.A.I.S.) degree offered by the Center addresses this need and prepares students for work in multinational corporations, state and federal governmental agencies with international divisions, and nonprofit corporations.

The Center also offers a 33-hour minor. Please refer to the Degrees and Programs section of this catalog for requirements of the minor.

In addition to its academic programs, the Center gives its students several opportunities to develop global awareness and intercultural sensitivity during their undergraduate years. The Center helps to ensure a strong international dimension to the three traditional roles of a university: teaching, research, and public service. Specific projects supported by the Center include:

Academic Advising. The Center employs an academic advisor to help students with selecting appropriate courses. The advisor also provides information on graduate study, internships, and career opportunities.

Career Counseling. The Center works closely with the Office of Career Services to prepare students for internationally-focused careers in various fields.

Financial Aid. Academic programs offered by the Center qualify for support under the various financial aid packages offered by the university. See the Financial Aid section of the catalog.

F.I.R.S.T. Program. The Center administers the F.I.R.S.T. (Faculty International Research and Scholarly Travel) Program that offers faculty development seminars at various foreign universities.

International Conferences and Seminars. In cooperation with various academic departments, the Center supports scholarly conferences, seminars, and workshops.

Internships. The Center coordinates internships for its majors and minors. Opportunities exist in central Texas, the United States, and abroad.

Scholarships. Two scholarships are open to majors in International Studies – the Piersol/Dunn Scholarship and the Dennis and Margaret Dunn Scholarship. For information about these scholarships and/or an application form, please contact the Center.

Student Organizations. The Center acts in an advisory capacity to two student organizations – Sigma Iota Rho (the international studies honor society) and the International Studies Club. For more information on these organizations, please contact the Center.

Study Abroad. Students are strongly encouraged to spend at least one summer session or semester in a foreign setting. SWT offers numerous study abroad and exchange programs. For more information on these programs, please contact the Office of Correspondence and Extension Studies. In most cases, courses taken through foreign universities can be applied to the major or minor in International Studies. Determinations concerning course suitability are made by the Director of the Center for International Studies.

Majors

Students wishing to pursue the Bachelor of Arts in International Studies degree may select from the following majors:

International Studies (International Business focus)
International Studies (Travel and Tourism focus)
International Studies - International Relations
International Studies - Asian Studies
International Studies - European Studies
International Studies - Interamerican Studies
International Studies - Middle East/African Studies

Minor in U.S. Ethnic Studies

The 18-hour minor provides an interdisciplinary approach to U.S. Ethnic Studies. It also provides conceptual frameworks for exploring new perspectives that recover the history, creative expression, and voices previously excluded by the traditional approaches to higher education. The minor fosters students' development of self, voice, and moral vision to prepare them to live and work effectively in a pluralistic society. Although a concentration is not required, the minor currently offers students the option of a concentration in African American, Native American/American Indian or Mexican American Studies.

The required core course, (3 hours) ETHS 3301, offers a general, multidisciplinary and comparative survey. It focuses on different contemporary and historical research methodologies currently being used by the various academic disciplines analyzing the diverse social, economic, political and cultural facets of ethnic groups in the United States. Students in this course gain a working understanding of the current issues and research techniques used by professional and academic researchers. Guest lecturers from various disciplines and departments offer students recent research in their fields regarding ethnic studies and their applied methodologies.

The general requirement block (9 hours) focuses on African American, Mexican American, and Native American/American Indian groups and/or link the studies of their country of origin with current and historical research on race and ethnic relations in the U.S. Approved General Requirement Electives include: ANTH 3314, 3315, 3324, 3331A, 3331C, 3332, 3345, *3375C; ENG 3331, 3344; HIST 3320, 3327, 3329, 3359, 3368C, 3369Z, 4372; MU 3375; POSI 4331, 4331B, 4331C; SPAN 3305, 3306, 3371 and 4370.

The general concepts electives block (6 hours) deals more broadly with concepts of ethnicity and need not be limited to the specific groups listed above. These courses provide a theoretical framework for understanding comparative, interdisciplinary approaches to the study of race, ethnicity, and gender. Approved General Concepts Electives include: ANTH 1312, 3370; ARTH 4301; ASD 3310; COMM 3318F, 4322; ENG 3345, 3346; FCS 4351; GEO 3306, 3308, 3329, 3353; HIST 3353, 3369I, 3372, 3375A, 3380, 4337; HON 3392E; MC 4382C; POSI 3319, 3395; PSY 3334; SOWK 4310, SOCI 3327, 3366, 3375; SPAN 4330.

*Special topic courses (those offered on a selective basis) may count toward the minor with the permission of the U.S. Ethnic Studies Program Director and the Dean of Liberal Arts.

Minor in Women's Studies

The 18-hour minor offers an interdisciplinary program that concentrates on the images and realities of women. Drawing on recent scholarship on women and gender, it provides a flexible, coherent program that enables students to consider the significance of gender.

On a personal level, courses in this program enhance the human potential of both men and women, because knowledge about how societies construct gender relations can encourage students to examine their own attitudes and behavior. On an academic level, a minor in Women's Studies provides study of the ongoing scholarship about women and gender and offers students the opportunity for exciting intellectual growth. On a professional level, the minor provides a valuable specialty to prepare students for opportunities in a variety of fields, including business, counseling, education, government, health and medicine, human resources, law, politics, psychology, social work, and graduate studies. The Women's Studies minor helps students recognize their opportunities in a rapidly changing society and flexibly complements any major.

All courses within the minor focus principally (at least 60% of course content) on women and/or gender roles, reflecting recent research in the field and differences such as ethnicity, class sexualities, age, cultures, and social context, among women and women's experiences. Courses within the minor also include critical analyses of the construction of knowledge and gender, foster an understanding of the intersection of gender with politics, economics, culture and society and improve student's critical thinking skills related to gender. Finally, these courses connect knowledge about gender to women's lived experiences and behavior in personal and professional contexts.

The two required core courses (6 hours) are WS 3376: Images of Women and WS 3377: Realities of Women. Both of these courses are interdisciplinary and include lectures by faculty from several disciplines and academic departments.

The remaining four elective courses (12 hours) may be chosen from the following: ANTH 3324, 3350; CJ 4326; COMM 3318C, 3328, 3334; ENG 3388, 3392; HIST 3369Y, 3373; HON 3392A, 3392G, 3392P; MC 4382C; PHIL 3333; POSI 4330; PSY 3332; SOCI 3350, 3370. Topics courses, offered on a selective basis, may also count toward the minor with permission from the Women's Studies Program Director and the Dean of Liberal Arts.

Courses in U.S. Ethnic Studies (ETHS)

3301 Introduction to U.S. Ethnic Studies. (3-0) Students in this course will be given a multi-disciplinary survey of different contemporary and historical research methodologies currently used by the various academic disciplines analyzing the many diverse cultural facets of ethnic groups in the United States. Special attention will be given to current academic studies examining African-American, Native American/American Indian, and Mexican American ethnic groups and their cultures. Students should gain a working understanding of the current issues facing researchers of the various ethnic groups as well as of research techniques currently used by professional and academic researchers. Students will also identify their own ethnicity in the American experience through researching the oral history of their own family.

Courses in Women's Studies (WS)

3376 Images of Women. (3-0) This course, one of two multi-disciplinary team-taught women's studies courses, is a survey of the changing images of women in the United States since 1800 through the eyes of historians, writers, artists, orators, the media, and educators.

3377 Realities of Women. (3-0) This course, one of two multi-disciplinary team-taught women's studies courses, is a study of the realities faced by women in the United States today—including biological and psychological differences in males and females, politics and the law, the workforce, and the home. Gender roles in societies outside the U.S. will also be examined.

Director and Professor-Busby.

The Center for the Study of the Southwest in the College of Liberal Arts, established in February 1990, has a threefold mission: curriculum development, public outreach, and research. Its 18-hour interdisciplinary minor, administered jointly with the Department of English, was approved in 1992. The Center draws faculty from varied disciplines (Art, Biology, English, Geography, History, and others); it disseminates information about its programs and research through Southwestern American Literature, a biannual journal devoted to the literature and culture of the Greater Southwest, and Texas Books in Review, a quarterly that monitors publications from or about Texas.

Minor in Southwestern Studies

A minor in Southwestern Studies requires 18 semester hours, including ENG 3345 and 3346, the interdisciplinary core courses. The remaining 12 semester hours may be selected from the following courses: AG 2421, 3321, 4322; ANTH 3314, 3315, 3324, 3331C; ARTH 3304, 4303; BIO 3460, 4410, 4421, 4422; CI 3332; ENG 3309, 3344, 4325; HON 3391Z, 3392E; NHT 4301, 4302; POSI 4331, 4338, 4358; SOWK 4310; SOCI 3327, 3366; SPAN 3371, 4306, 4370.

Students should check with individual departments for all course prerequisites. Relevant special topics courses may be substituted with permission of the Director of the Center for the Study of the Southwest.

Chair and Professor-Glassman. Professors-Garber, McGee, Warme, Whalen. Associate Professor-Reilly. Assistant Professor-Juarez. Lecturer-Bousman.

Anthropology is the study of human beings and the way they live, both in the present and in the past. It includes cultural anthropology, which is concerned with contemporary societies; physical anthropology, which deals with primate and human evolutionary development; and archaeology, which studies the cultural and material manifestations of human society during the past two million years.

Major

Students who earn a Bachelor of Arts in Anthropology are exposed to both cultural and biological aspects of humanity. Anthropology majors are prepared both for graduate work in anthropology and for careers requiring familiarity with foreign cultures. The BA in Anthropology exposes students to both social and biological aspects of humanity. It involves the scientific examination of cultural and biological variability. It prepares students for graduate work in anthropology and for careers in which the knowledge of other cultures is essential.

Bachelor of Arts Major in Anthropology (Minimum required: 128 semester hours)

Notes:

1. A major in anthropology requires 32 semester hours, including a minimum of 18 semester hours of advanced courses.
2. All majors are required to take ANTH 1312, 2414, 2415, and 4310.
3. Eighteen hours of writing intensive (WI) courses (not including ENG 1310, 1320) are required for graduation.
4. Students may not receive more than six hours credit in ANTH 4630 to satisfy Anthropology major or minor requirements.
5. The natural science component must include at least one semester of laboratory science.
6. The social science component may not include ANTH 1312.

Minor in Anthropology

A minor in anthropology requires 20 semester hours including ANTH 1312, 2414, 2415, and at least nine advanced semester hours.

Courses in Anthropology (ANTH)

1312 (ANTH 2351) Cultural Anthropology. (3-0) Examines the nature of culture and its various aspects as these are manifest in contemporary and traditional societies. Provides for increased flexibility of human culture. ANTH 1312 and 3301 may not both be counted for credit.

2414 Physical Anthropology. (3-1) This lecture and accompanying laboratory course examines fundamental aspects of the physical nature of humans and human variability. Course content is divided into sections devoted to the process of evolution and the inheritance of physical characteristics, primate behavior, osteology (study of the skeleton), and the human fossil record.

2415 General Archaeology. (3-1) This course covers the basic principles of archaeology. It includes a study of the kinds of sites; classification of stone artifacts; methods of archaeological survey and excavation; methods of dating by geological, faunal, and radiometric means; and the theoretical approach to archaeology. This course includes a two-hour weekly laboratory.

3301 Principles of Cultural Anthropology. (3-0) A cross-cultural survey of the interrelated systems of culture including subsistence, economic, religious, social, and political patterns. Case studies come from societies of varying cultural complexity ranging from small hunting and gathering bands to large industrialized states. ANTH 1312 and 3301 may not both be counted for credit.

3305 Magic, Ritual and Religion. (3-0) An examination of magic and religion in cultures of the world with an emphasis on recent works dealing with mysticism and the occult.

3309 Cultures Through Film. (3-0) Through films, lectures, and discussions, students explore the various ways that ethnographic film interprets the cultural environment and social interactions of small-scale cultures around the world. We will also discuss anthropological interpretations of how historically U.S. (American) culture has dealt with concepts of the "other" and supernatural phenomena through Film.

3314 Latin American Cultures. (3-0) An examination of Latin American cultures with an emphasis on pre-Columbian and contemporary indigenous peoples of Mexico.

3315 Archaeology of the Southwest. (3-0) An examination of the prehistory and early cultures of the Greater Southwest from the first arrival of humans as early as 20,000 years ago to the coming of the Spaniards in the 16th century. The course covers several mammoth kill sites at the end of the Pleistocene; the emergence of Archaic hunters and gatherers and the appearance of agriculture about two thousand years ago, leading to the three major cultures in the southwest—the Mogollon, the Hohokam and the Anasazi, the last in multistoried pueblos and cliff dwellings.

(WI) 3316 Archaeology of Europe, Asia and Africa. (3-0) A survey course describing the first appearance of humans about 2.5 million years ago in Africa, their way of life, early migration into Asia, and eventual expansion into Europe. The course covers the development of human society, with special attention to recent discoveries and dates, and their impact on the interpretation of early human societies.

3322 Peoples and Cultures of Africa. (3-0) A general introduction to the contemporary peoples and cultures of sub-Saharan Africa. Examines the social structure, economy, political systems, religions of African cultures in the context of the radical economic and social transformations affecting the area.

(WI) 3323 Cultures of the Middle East. (3-0) This course deals with contemporary societies from Morocco to Iran. It reviews geography and history of the Middle East and the various religions found there with an emphasis on Islam. The course describes various ethnic groups and their organization as nomad, village, or urban dwellers. The role of women in Middle East society is discussed.

3324 Mexican American Culture. (3-0) An examination of the history and culture of Mexican Americans with an emphasis on the analytical concepts of culture, race, class, and gender. Lectures, films, and selected readings (including chapters from anthropological and literary books and journals) will be used to portray the diversity of Mexican American experiences in this country. Topics include religion, politics, economy, identity politics, popular culture, sexuality, marriage and the family.

3326 Maya History and Society. (3-0) The purpose of this course is to develop a knowledge of Maya Civilization from historical as well as anthropological perspectives. Students will study the features of the Classic Period Maya and Modern Maya societies including the religious and economic life styles.

3331C Indians of the Southwest. (3-0) A survey of the life and cultural patterns of Indian groups in the greater Southwest before and after Spanish and American contact.

3332 Myths and Moundbuilders. (3-0) This course presents an anthropological approach to Native Americans of the Southeastern United States, their culture and beliefs.

(WI) 3340 Human and Primate Origins. (3-0) An examination of the long and diverse record of human and nonhuman biological adaptations as viewed from the fossil record. It examines the functional and ecological challenges that may have been responsible for the path of human development.

3342 Primate Behavior. (3-0) This course examines a wide variety of aspects of ecology, identification, and behavior among the living primates (prosimians, monkeys, apes, and humans). Topics which are emphasized include general primate trends, social structure and composition, communication, aggression and dominance, socialization, and primate psychology.

3343 Human Variation and Adaptation. (3-0) This course examines the physical variation observable within and between human populations. It emphasizes a functional approach whereby variation is examined in relation to biological adaptation. It explores the biological mechanisms responsible for change and evaluates the potential of biological components in human behavior. Prerequisite: One year of BIO (either 1320, 1421, 1430, or 1431 are recommended) or ANTH 2414.

3344 Forensic Anthropology and Osteology. (3-0) This course examines the interrelated fields of human osteology (the study of the human skeleton) and forensic anthropology (the field of human identification from skeletal material in medico-legal contexts). It emphasizes skeletal identification, management and recovery of the death scene, and skeletal reconstructions.

3345 Archaeology of Mexico. (3-0) This course examines the development of culture from early hunters and gatherers through the appearance of agriculture to the rise of civilization. The focus on the course is on the emergence of complex society among groups such as the Olmec, Aztec, and Maya.

3347 Archaeology of North America. (3-0) This course describes human settlement of North America from the end of the Pleistocene to European discovery. It considers early occupation of arctic, plains, and forested regions and development during archaic times of Adena, Hopewell, and Mississippian societies in the Southeast and Mogollon, Hohokam, and Anasazi in the Southwest.

3350 Sex Roles. (3-0) This course examines the relationships between women and men in societies around the world. Course topics include the socialization of gender roles, the ritual creation of gender, beliefs about sexuality, and sexual violence with an emphasis on cross-cultural examples.

3360 Economic Anthropology. (3-0) Reviews central issues in economic anthropology, using both case studies and theoretical writings. Analyzes production, exchange, distribution, consumption, property, economic surplus, inheritance, and types of economic structure. Materials will cover hunter-gatherer societies, simple agricultural societies, pre-capitalist complex state societies, and issues of development in non-industrialized countries.

(WI) 3365 Ecological Anthropology. (3-0) This course presents an anthropological approach to humans and their environment. It focuses on the ways in which human societies both adapt to the environment and adapt the environment to their needs. It surveys environmentally based studies in anthropology and the basic principles of ecology.

3370 Culture and Personality. (3-0) An examination of the ties between psychology and anthropology in the cross-cultural study of human beings. Course topics include psychoanalytic studies of non-western societies, the development of I.Q. testing, dream analysis, and the use of projective tests in non-western society.

3375 Selected Topics in Anthropology. (3-0) Analysis and interpretations of selected topics of special interest in the area of social, physical, and/or archaeological anthropology. Topics discussed and instructors will vary from semester to semester. May be repeated with different emphasis for additional credit.

3375E Gender and Sexuality in the Americas

3375H World Pre-History

3375I Field Methods in Primate Behavior and Ecology

3375J Archaeology of Texas

3375K Introduction to Yucatec/Lacandon Maya

3375L Techniques in Forensic Anthropology

(WI) 4310 History of Anthropological Thought. (3-0) A historical survey of the major theoretical positions in 19th and 20th century anthropology, this course emphasizes the central position of theory within anthropology. It focuses the relationships among theoretical positions and explores the conflicts that these generate.

(WI) 4320 Rise of Civilization. (3-0) This course consists of a definition of civilization and its components, its geographic setting, and the roles of religion, art, and the institution of the "Divine King" in the development of dynamic state societies in Egypt, Sumeria, the Indus Valley, and China in the Old World and that of the Olmec in Mexico and Chavin in Peru.

4360 Directed Study. (3-0) A one-semester course of independent reading, tutorial sessions, and individual research projects. Open to superior students by invitation of the professor and with the consent of the chair of the department May be repeated for credit with permission of instructor.

(WI) 4361 Field Methods in Cultural Anthropology. (3-0) This course teaches students how to conduct field research in cultural anthropology. Topics include research ethics, problem formulation, participant observation, interviewing, and other techniques for data collection and analysis. Students will conduct their own field research project under the instructor's supervision.

4380 Language and Culture. (3-0) This course seeks to introduce students to the fundamentals of linguistic anthropology, and the use of linguistics in anthropological fieldwork through lecture, discussion, and "hands on" class exercises.

Although housed in a single department, English includes three disciplines: writing, literature, and language. The department teaches writing to nearly every first-year student enrolled at SWT and offers several creative and technical writing courses. Its literature program includes a range of courses from Shakespeare and modern drama to film and women's literature. The department also teaches courses about the history and structure of the English language. English majors learn to think, write, and speak clearly; to read literature with pleasure and understanding; and to appreciate the power and subtlety of language.

While gaining a broad liberal education, English majors also learn practical skills that provide a base for almost any career. Graduates traditionally enter the fields of education, journalism, publishing, or communications. They also work for computer, engineering, and public relations firms or pursue careers in politics and government. An English background provides excellent training for law school and other graduate programs.

Major and Minor in English

A Bachelor of Arts major in English requires 36 hours; a minor in English, 24 hours. Course requirements are as follows:

1. Literature before 1800. Majors must take at least 6 hours of Literature before 1800; minors at least 3. Sophomore and advanced courses that satisfy this requirement are identified by an asterisk in Sections 3 and 5 below.
2. First Year English. ENG 1310 and 1320 are prerequisites to all other ENG courses.
3. Sophomore Literature. Majors and minors will select any two of the following sophomore literature courses: 2310, 2320, 2330, 2340, 2359, 2360. Students who earn a grade of "B" or above in the first sophomore course may, with permission from the chair of their major department and college dean, elect to take an advanced literature course in lieu of the second sophomore course. No more than six hours of sophomore literature count toward the major.
4. ENG 3301. This course is required for majors, open to minors. Students should take it immediately after completing the sophomore literature requirement.
5. Advanced Courses. Majors must take seven advanced courses, in addition to ENG 3301. Minors must take four advanced courses. Majors must take at least one advanced course from each of the four groups below. They also select nine hours of electives from one or more groups. In selecting from groups or in choosing electives, students are encouraged to take at least two courses that center on genre, theme, or theory. One of the advanced courses must focus on the works of a single author (3343, 3354, 4351, 4355, or 4358). The department recommends that students take this course at the end of the major. Minors must take advanced courses from at least two different groups. They are encouraged to take at least one course that centers on genre, theme, or theory.

Group A. British Literature: 3351, 3352, 3353, 3354, 3356, 3357, 3359, 3362, 3365, 3368, 3370, 4351, 4355, 4358.

Group B. American Literature: 3309, 3326, 3331, 3333, 3335, 3336, 3338, 3344, 3345, 3346, 3347, 4325, 4334.

Group C. World Literature: 3321, 3322, 3323, 3325, 3327, 3328, 3329, 3341, *3350, 3385, 3386, 3388, 3392.

Group D. Forms, Language, and Writing: 3302, 3303, 3304, 3307, 3311, 3315, 3316, 3319, 3320, 3342, 3343, 3348, 3349, 3389, 4310, 4323, 4348, 4349.

Teacher Certification

Students who seek a B.A. in English with Secondary Teacher Certification must meet the same requirements as majors not seeking teacher certification, with the following modifications:

1. Six hours from Group B. In selecting advanced courses, students must include at least two courses from Group B, American Literature.
2. Six hours from Group D. Students must also include ENG 3319 or 4310 and ENG 3389 from Group D, Forms, Language, and Writing.

Creative Writing Emphasis

Students who seek a B.A. in English with Creative Writing Emphasis must meet the same requirements as majors not seeking a creative writing emphasis, with the following modifications:

1. Nine hours of electives from Group D. In selecting their nine hours of electives in English, students must take ENG 3315, then choose the fiction track and take ENG 3348 and 4348, or choose the poetry track and take ENG 3349 and 4349.
2. Students who choose ENG 3315 to satisfy the three-hour requirement under Group D, Forms, Language and Writing, can take one English elective outside the Creative Writing Emphasis.

Professional Writing Emphasis

Students who seek a B.A. in English with Professional Writing Emphasis must meet the same requirements as majors not seeking a professional writing emphasis, with the following modifications:

1. Nine hours of electives from Group D. In selecting their nine hours of electives in English, students must take three of the following courses: ENG 3303, 3304, 3311, or 3342.
2. Students who choose either ENG 3303, 3304, 3311, or 3342 to satisfy the three-hour requirement under Group D, Forms, Language and Writing, can take one English elective outside the Professional Writing Emphasis.

Bachelor of Arts Major in English (Minimum required: 128 semester hours)

Notes:

1. Candidates must satisfy general education core requirements and BA requirements.
2. See requirements listed above for English major, English major (Creative Writing Emphasis) and English major (Professional Writing Emphasis).
3. BA candidates must complete an approved minor.

Minor in Writing

A minor in writing requires 24 semester hours. Students may choose an emphasis in professional writing or in creative writing, or they may take courses in both types of writing. Students majoring in English may not minor in writing. Requirements are as follows: ENG 1310, 1320; 2310 or 2320 or 2330 or 2340 or 2359 or 2360; 3311; one advanced literature elective; select 9 hours from 3303, 3304, 3315, 3342, 3348, 3349, 4348, 4349.

Students should check English course descriptions below for prerequisites to ENG 3348, 3349, 4348, and 4349.

Minor in Media Studies

A minor in Media Studies requires 18 semester hours, including two core courses: MC 2319 and ENG 3316. Students select the remaining 12 hours from the following courses; no more than three courses (including core courses) in a single department may count toward this minor: ANTH 3309; ARTH 4304; COMM 4307; ENG 3302, 3307, 3309, 3326, 3327, 3329, 3340P, FCS 3391; GEO 2411, 3416, 4412, 4422, 4426, 4427; HON 3391H, 3391L, 3391R, 3391S, 3392P; MC 3355, 3375, 4301, 4336B; SPAN 4350; POSI 4301; TH 3341, 3342.

Students should check with individual departments for all course prerequisites. A course may not be used to fulfill both a major and a minor requirement. Relevant special topics courses may be substituted with permission from the Director of Media Studies.

Minor in Medieval and Renaissance Studies

A minor in Medieval and Renaissance Studies requires 24 semester hours, including six hours of core courses, one in English, ENG 2310 or 2330, and one in History, HIST 2310 or 2311. Students select the remaining 18 hours from the following courses; no more than three courses (including core courses) in a single department may count toward this minor: ARTH 2301, 2302, 4306, 4322; DAN 4368, 4369; ENG 3319, 3350, 3351, 3352, 3353, 3354, 3356, 3392, 4351, 4355, 4358; FR 3301; GER 3301; MU 3315; MATH 4311; PHIL 2311; POSI 3332, 3333, 4313; SPAN 3301; TECH 3322; TH 3320.

Students should check with individual departments for all course prerequisites. A course may not be used to fulfill both a major and a minor requirement. Relevant special topics courses may be substituted with permission from the Director of Medieval and Renaissance Studies.

Minor in Southwestern Studies

A minor in Southwestern Studies requires 18 semester hours, including ENG 3345 and 3346, the interdisciplinary core courses. Students select the remaining 12 semester hours from the following courses: AG 2421, 3321, 4322; ANTH 3314, 3315, 3324, 3331A, 3350; ARTH 3302, 3304, 4303; BIO 3460, 4410, 4421, 4422; CI 3332; ENG 3309, 3344, 4325; ETHDS 3304; GEO 3308, 3329, 3334, 4301, 4302, 4313; HIST 3320, 3325, 3353, 3369I, 3369Z, 3372, 4372; HON 3391Z; POSI 4331, 4338, 4358; SOWK 4310; SOCI 3327, 3366; SPAN 3320, 3371, 4350, 4370.

Students should check with individual departments for all course prerequisites. A course may not be used to fulfill both a major and a minor requirement. Relevant special topics courses may be substituted with permission from the Director of the Center for the Study of the Southwest.

Courses in English (ENG)

Requirements in first-year English must be completed before a student takes any other English course.

1300 Developmental Writing. (3-0) Basic composition skills. Offered to students who have failed the TASP writing test or for those who need developmental work before taking English 1310. Does not count toward any degree offered by the university.

1310 (ENGL 1301) College Writing I. (3-0) Expository writing as a means of exploring and shaping ideas. Emphasis on critical reading and the improvement of essays through revision.

1320 (ENGL 1302) College Writing II. (3-0) Continuation of English 1310. Expository writing as a means of analyzing and understanding texts. Research paper required.

Requirements in sophomore English must be completed before a student takes any advanced work in English.

Students required to take six semester hours of literature may choose any two of the following courses unless their degree program specifies a particular sequence: ENG 2310, 2320, 2330, 2340, 2359, 2360. Only six semester hours of sophomore literature may be taken for credit. Students who earn a B or above in the first sophomore course may, with permission from the chair of their major department and college dean, elect to take an advanced literature course in lieu of the second sophomore course.

2310 (ENGL 2322) British Literature before 1785. (3-0) Representative authors and works of British literature from the beginnings through the Neoclassical Period.

2320 (ENGL 2323) British Literature since 1785. (3-0) Representative authors and works of British literature from the Romantic Period to the present.

Majors

Students planning to obtain a degree in geography may do so as a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science. To graduate, a student must have a 2.50 in Geography as well as a 2.50 GPA overall.

A major in the BA requires a minimum of 30 semester hours and the BS requires a minimum of 36 semester hours. A minor of at least 19 semester hours is required (see requirements for a minor under degrees and programs section). No more than six semester hours of geography may count as electives beyond the minimum requirements for a major or minor.

A variety of degree options and concentrations are available in the Department of Geography: 1) Geography-Resource and Environmental Studies, 2) Geography-Cartography/Geographic Information Systems, 3) Geography-Urban and Regional Planning, 4) Geography-Physical Geography, 5) Geography, and 6) Secondary Teacher Certification. These are described in the following pages. Students may fulfill their degree requirements under the general geography option with any combination of courses approved by their advisor .

Admission Process

Students who meet the university admission requirements can enter the Department of Geography's undergraduate program as pre-majors. To become a major in geography, students must:

1. Complete 1309 or 1310, 2410, and 3301 with a combined GPA for these courses of at least 2.40.
2. Complete 45 or more credit hours with an overall SWT GPA of at least 2.5.

Academic Advising

The Department of Geography maintains extensive advising services, and all Geography majors and minors are strongly encouraged to be advised each semester. Students who have not been advised or have questions, should go to ELA 129 to get directed to the appropriate faculty advisor. The department also sponsors group advising each semester prior to advanced registration. All majors and minors should attend group advising. Students wishing to declare geography as a major should see the Geography Undergraduate Program Coordinator for initial advising and complete the forms for a major in the Geography Advising Services Office in Evans Liberal Arts 129. This process should be completed as soon as possible to ensure good planning and course selection.

Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science
Major in Geography
(Minimum required: 129-130 semester hours)

The BA and BS are general degrees designed to improve students' understanding of the world in which they live. They are also tailored to improve the analytical skills necessary to interpret real-world problems in the cultural and physical environment. The degrees prepare students for employment in business, government, planning, foreign service, mapping, industrial location, marketing research, resource evaluation, environmental analysis, transportation, and other fields.

Majors must take a minimum of 30 semester hours in geography for a BA and a minimum of 36 semester hours for a BS and a minimum of 18 hours in their minor field.

This major is designed for students with unique needs better met by an individualized program. Course requirements in this major include 1309 or 1310, 2410 and 3301. Other courses are to be selected in consultation with the advisor.

Notes:

1. Majors must take a minimum of 30 semester hours in geography for a BA and a minimum of 36 semester hours for a BS and a minimum of 18 hours in their minor field.
2. Any faculty member may serve as an advisor for a BA or BS student.
3. General education requirements for this degree are listed in the University College section.
4. Students pursuing a BA with substantial previous language experience may meet their language requirement by completing as few as 6 hours at the sophomore level. Most students will need to complete the first year of the language requirement (1410 and 1420) before beginning 2310. Students pursuing a BS who have satisfactorily completed two years of the same modern language in high school will have their modern language requirement waived.
5. Bachelor of Science students will fulfill the second 3-hour Liberal Arts Literature requirement with ENG 3303, Technical Writing.

Teacher Certification

Secondary Teacher certification is available in the Bachelor of Science (BS) only, under the Social Studies Composite Certification. Advisor: Brown

The Social Studies Composite Certification program is designed to prepare students to teach any of the four social studies disciplines (History, Geography, Government, and Economics) at the secondary level (grades 8-12). Upon completion of the social studies curriculum and passage of the social studies ExCET test, students will receive certification in social studies and eligibility to teach in any of the four disciplines.

Students pursuing secondary certification with a major in Geography select a minor from the disciplines of History or Political Science. In addition, students will complete specific courses in the third social studies discipline not chosen as a major or minor as well as HIST 4200: Social Studies Resources and Practices. Students must take ECO 2301 as the social studies choice in the core curriculum, as Economics is another subject tested on the Social Studies Composite ExCET exam. The teacher certification options with the Geography major are:

1. Geography major, History minor, Political Science third field. This option in secondary teacher certification requires completion of the following 36 hours in Geography: GEO 1309, 1310, 2410, 3301, 3303, 3309, 3313, 3329, 4340; one course from GEO 3307, 3308, 3328, 3332, 3333, 4328; one course from 2411, 2426, 3411, 3416, 4430, and one Geography elective. The minor in History (24 hours) requires completion of the following History courses: HIST 1310, 1320, 2311, 2312, six hours advanced Group A History (Asian, European, Latin American, and Middle Eastern), and six hours advanced Group B (American History). The third field in Political Science (18 hours) requires completion of the following courses: POSI 2310, 2320, 4398, six hours from Group 2 (American Government), choose three hours from Group 3 (Public Law) from POSI 3310, 3311, or 4311. All coursework must be completed before student teaching (ED 4681). In addition to the major, minor, and third field requirements, students must also complete 21 hours of professional sequence courses under the College of Education: CI 33310, 3325, 4332, 4343; RDG 3323; and ED 4681 (Student Teaching).

2. Geography major, Political Science minor, History third field. This option in secondary teacher certification requires completion of the following 36 hours in Geography: GEO 1309, 1310, 2410, 3301, 3303, 3309, 3313, 3329, 4340; one course from: GEO 3307, 3308, 3328, 3332, 3333, 4328; one course from: 2411, 2426, 3411, 3416, 4430, and one Geography elective. The minor in Political Science (24 hours) requires completion of the following courses: POSI 1308 or 1309 and 2310, 2320, 4398, and one advanced course from 4 of the 5 groups. The third field in History (18 hours) requires completion of the following: HIST 1310, 1320, 2311, 2312, three hours Advanced Group A (Asian, European, Latin American, and Middle Eastern) and three hours Advanced Group B (American History). All coursework must be completed before student teaching (ED 4681). In addition to the major, minor, and third field requirements, students must also complete 21 hours of professional sequence courses under the College of Education: CI 33310, 3325, 4332, 4343; RDG 3323; and ED 4681 (Student Teaching).

3. Elementary Teacher Certification requires the following courses: GEO 1309, 1310, 2410, 3309, 3329, 4340.

To be allowed to student teach (ED 4681) and take the Secondary Composite ExCET, students must have accomplished:

1. Students must have successfully completed all coursework (including HIST 4200) for certification prior to student teaching and within the six years immediately before taking the ExCET licensing exam for teachers.

2. Students must have an overall SWT GPA, Geography, History, and Political Science GPA of 2.50 or higher with no grade lower than a "C" in each discipline.

3. All external students taking the ExCET at SWT must meet the same requirements.

4. All external students taking the ExCET in Geography at SWT must meet the same requirements.

Bachelor of Science
Major in Geography - Physical Geography
(Minimum required: 129-130 semester hours)

Advisors: Butler, Dixon, Earl, Petersen

This degree emphasizes the physical science elements of geographical study. The degree prepares students for employment in business, government, applied climatology and meteorology, resource evaluation, environmental analysis, and areas where an understanding of the complex relationship between nature and society is required.

Students earning the BS in Physical Geography must take 36-42 semester hours of course work in the department and a minimum of 18 hours in their minor field.

Required GEO courses: 1309 or 1310, 2410, and 3301.

Core GEO courses: 3313, 3325, 3335.

Techniques GEO courses-select at least three (10-12 hours): 2426, 3411, 3416, 4380, 4412, 4422, 4430.

Elective GEO courses-select at least two: 2310, 2427, 3321, 3334, 3349, 4310, 4313, 4314, 4316, 4339, 4350, 4391.

Minor in Geography

Geography offers a wide range of content courses in environmental and cultural areas and state-of-art Geo-techniques courses that can provide distinct career preparation and competitive advantages to many majors. For more information about how earning a minor in geography from one of the top geography departments in the country can benefit your plan of study, visit the Geography Advising Services.

Minor in Nature and Heritage Tourism

Nature and heritage tourism is the most rapidly growing segment of the overall tourism industry. The minor in Nature and Heritage Tourism (24 hours) concentrates on planning, development, and management of nature and heritage tourism activities that have a strong learning content.

The minor is interdisciplinary, drawing on courses from fourteen departments. The minor consists of six hours of core courses (NHT 4301 and 4302) and 18 hours from at least two departments outside of the student's major department. Minors must conform to all prerequisites and meet all requirements established by the respective departments.

Required NHT: 4301 and 4302

Select 18 hours from at least two departments (outside student's department major) from: ACC 2361, 2362; AG 3318, 3321, 3351, 3355, 3426, 3427, 4383; ANTH 2415, 3314, 3315, 3331, 3332, 3345, 3347, 3375, 4630; BIO 3407, 3422, 4305, 4410, 4415, 4416, 4420, 4421, 4422, 4423, 4434; ENG 3309, 3340G, 3345, 3346, 4325; GEO 2410, 3313, 3329, 3360, 4321, 4390, 4411, 4430; GEOL 1410, 1420, 3410; HIST 3353, 3369, 3370, 3372, 4372; MGT 3303, 3340, 4336; MKT 3343; PFW 1150H, 1190A, 1200, 1201, 1204, 1225; REC 1310, 1330, 3340, 3351, 4318, 4337; POSI 3328, 4322, 4361; SOCI 3340, 3366, 3375.

Certificate in Geographic Information Systems

The purpose of the GIS Certificate is to provide undergraduate and graduate students in geography and other disciplines and professionals in a variety of fields an opportunity to complete a series of GIS courses that will give them a working knowledge of this very powerful spatial analytical tool.

Students will successfully complete four 4-credit hour undergraduate GIS courses with no grade lower than a "C" and with at least an overall 2.5 GPA for all 4 courses. Required courses: GEO 2426, 2427, 4426 and 4427.

Certificate in Water Resources Policy

The purpose of the Certificate in Water Resources is to provide undergraduate and post-graduate students in geography and other disciplines and professionals in a variety of fields an opportunity to complete a series of water resources policy courses that will give them an in-depth knowledge about water resources policies, particularly those in Texas.

Students will successfully complete four three-credit hour undergraduate water resources policy courses with no grade lower than a "C" and with at least an overall 2.5 GPA for all four courses. Required courses: GEO 4313, 3334, 4314 and 4335.

Courses in Geography (GEO)

1309 (GEOG 1302) Introduction to Cultural Geography. (3-0) This course introduces students to the geographical perspective and focuses on spatial distributions of human activities and investigates underlying geographical processes that account for present and past cultural patterns such as population, folk and popular culture, language, religion, gender, ethnicity, politics, urban and rural land use, and economic development.

1310 (GEOG 1303) World Geography. (3-0) This course stresses the similarities and differences of the major world regions. Emphasis is given to human behavior in a spatial context.

2310 Introduction to Environmental Geography. (3-0) Introduces the Geographic perspective to examine the Earth's environment and its opportunities, constraints, and risks. Principles of scale space, and distributions will be used in examining the environment.

2350 Introduction to Community and Environmental Planning. (3-0) An overview of community, environmental, and regional planning. Examples of the contemporary topics discussed are land use problems and regulation, water rights, transportation trends, and sustainable environments.

2410 Introduction to Physical Geography. (3-2) A systematic study of the various elements that make up the Earth's physical environment, weather, climate, vegetation, soil, and landforms. Prerequisite: MATH 1315. To ensure that students have the required math skills to complete successfully Introduction to Physical Geography.

2411 Maps and Society. (2-4) An introduction to map use designed to serve all university students. A wide variety of maps including cognitive maps, thematic, topographic, and weather are surveyed from the points of view of their correct uses and appropriate interpretations. No drafting background or artistic ability needed.

2426 Fundamentals of Geographic Information Systems. (2-4) This course is an introduction to Geographic Information Systems (GIS), a tool for integrating and analyzing spatial data to visualize relationships, seek explanations and develop solutions to pressing problems. The foundations and theory of GIS will be emphasized.

2427 Management and Implementation of GIS. (2-4) This course addresses strategies for successful GIS management and implementation in an organization-wide context and is organized around four primary issues: implementation planning, data management, technology assessment, and organizational setting. Prerequisite: GEO 2426 or equivalent.

3301 Quantitative Methods in Geography. (3-0) This course introduces the quantitative methods used by geographers to describe, explain, and predict spatial organization. Course topics include statistical techniques, from summary descriptive measures through simple linear regression, and the utility of statistical software for solving geographic problems.

3303 Economic Geography. (3-0) This course investigates the geographic organization of economic activity with emphasis on the interconnections from global to local scales. Technological advances, resource creation and destruction, supply and demand, distribution and development, environmental impacts, and economic justice are addressed. Theoretical models are used to interpret past and current situations.

3305 Applied Meteorology and Climatology. (3-0) Introduction to the elements of weather and climate and their use in environmental monitoring and analysis.

3306 Geography of the American South. (3-0) A regional analysis of the American South with emphasis on both physical and human topical issues and current problems.

3307 Geography of Europe. (3-0) The course presents a systematic and regional investigation of the physical and cultural processes and phenomena that have created the characteristic landscapes of Europe. Topics include the climate, landform regions, trade, transportation, urban growth, population change, and the evolution of economic integration in the region.

3308 Latin America. (3-0) A regional survey of the physical and cultural geography of Latin America.

3309 United States and Canada. (3-0) This course provides a systematic and regional analysis of the United States and Canada with emphasis on contemporary economic, environmental, political, and social issues.

3310 Urban Geography. (3-0) The study of city systems, form, and development with emphasis on functional patterns, economic base, industrial location, service, and social area analysis.

3313 Natural Resource Use and Planning. (3-0) Problems involved in the use and conservation of natural and agricultural resources.

3320 Community and Regional Planning. (3-0) History and development of planning in the United States, organizational and legal frameworks for planning, and an analysis of planning approaches and procedures, particularly within the context of the comprehensive plan.

3321 Energy Resource Management. (3-0) An analysis of energy sources, their distribution and characteristics, and the problems associated with their use and management.

3323 Location Analysis. (3-0) Location and movement stressed in terms of the factors considered in locating industry, business, housing, and community facilities.

3325 Geomorphology. (3-0) This course provides a study of landforms, the processes and materials that form them and change them over time. Students will be introduced to bibliographic research and the interpretation of landforms and landscapes in the field from photographs or maps. Prerequisite: GEO 2410 or GEOL 1410 or equivalents.

3328 Geography of North Africa and the Middle East. (3-0) A regional treatment dealing with the physical features and cultural activities of the people in North Africa and the Middle East.

3329 Geography of Texas. (3-0) A physical and cultural geography of Texas with special emphasis on human resources and economic activities.

3332 Geography of South and Southeast Asia. (3-0) This course is a systematic and regional overview of the physical and human geography of the countries of the Indian subcontinent and Southeast Asia. Topics include the monsoons, cultural diversity, rapid economic development, agricultural systems, and environmental problems.

3333 Geography of China and Japan. (3-0) This course provides a regional overview of the physical and human geography of the countries of East Asia. This course also systematically examines China, Korea, and Japan by closely examining such topics as the impacts of high population densities and intensive land use practices.

3334 Water Resources Management. (3-0) This course covers the formation, use, conservation and management of water resources. Through the use of professional sources, the students will develop a working knowledge of the hydrologic, water quality, legal, economic, political and social factors that determine water availability, hazards, use, demand, and allocation. Prerequisite: GEO 2410 or equivalent.

3335 Oceanography. (3-0) An introductory course about the physical, chemical, geologic, and biologic characteristics of the oceans and coastal areas. Emphasis will be placed on the role of the oceans as a component of the global environment. Prerequisite: GEO 2410 or equivalent.

3340 Political Geography. (3-0) Political geography concerns the interrelationship between political activities and spatial distributions. Topics include the concept of the state, international spheres of influence and confrontation, boundaries, contemporary world issues and problems, and geographic aspects of electoral politics.

3349 Population Geography. (3-0) An in-depth study of the spatial distribution and movement of human populations. The course will emphasize current issues and analytical techniques. Topics will include the impact of population growth, spatial diffusion processes, migration trends and theories, explanation of regional demographic differences, and techniques such as population projections.

3353 American Ethnic Geography. (3-0) A geographical analysis of ethnic groups in the United States with emphasis on their settlement patterns, spatial interactions, and current problems.

3360 Geography of Tourism. (3-0) This course will provide an advanced introduction to the basic concepts and principles of tourism. It will review the spatial dimensions of tourism, analyze the environmental impacts of travel and travelers, and explore the landscapes of tourism.

3411 Map Compilation and Graphics. (3-2) An introduction to map compilation, projections, instrumentation, and graphic techniques in presenting statistical data for planning and geographical analysis.

3416 Principles of Remote Sensing. (3-2) Introduction to the acquisition, mensuration, interpretation, and mapping of aerial photographs and satellite images for environmental monitoring and inventorying. Prerequisite: GEO 2410.

4190 Independent Study. (1-0) Individual study under direct supervision of a professor. May involve field trips. This course may be repeated for credit, but a student may not exceed six hours of credit in Independent Study.

4290 Independent Study. (2-0) Individual study under direct supervision of a professor. May involve field trips. This course may be repeated for credit, but a student may not exceed six hours of credit in Independent Study.

4310 Regional Field Studies. (3-0) Observation, description, and analysis of a geographical environment based upon off-campus study in that environment. May be repeated once, provided the second study is in a different region, for a total of 6 semester hours.

4313 Environmental Management. (3-0) This course provides an analysis of the causes of environmental problems, from local to global scale, and the evaluation of attempts at management and solutions of those problems. Emphasis will be placed on the role that geography can play in environmental degradation and management. Prerequisite: GEO 2410 or equivalent.

4314 River Basin Management. (3-0) The purpose of this course is to study principles and practices of large-scale river basin management. Emphasis is on integrated management of land and water resources, including economic development and environmental protection issues. Prerequisite: GEO 2410 or equivalent.

4316 Landscape Biogeography. (3-0) Investigation of present-day and post-Pleistocene spatial patterns of plants, animals, and biogeographical processes. Human interactions with biogeographical patterns is also addressed, as are methods for reconstructing Holocene patterns of biogeographic distribution. Course to be taught over every other year. Prerequisite: GEO 2410.

4321 Planning Methods and Procedures. (3-0) A practical course on the design, analysis, and implementation of planning studies and procedures, with emphasis on methods utilized in planning for housing, community facilities, industry, commerce, and transportation including a discussion of renewal, community development, fund generation, and programming.

4322 Interpretive Environmental Geography. (3-0) Students learn principles, themes, and techniques for effective interpretation of environmental information to audiences ranging from park visitors to professional conferences. Interpretive themes are drawn from geographic concepts including the physical and cultural landscapes and cultural ecology. Techniques emphasize effective use of traditional and digital presentation methods.

4328 Geography of the Russian Realm. (3-0) This course presents a regional and systematic overview of the physical and human geography of the countries of the former Soviet Union. The course examines in depth issues such as the legacy of the degraded landscape and environmental problems left by decades of Soviet industrialization.

4335 Directed Research. (3-0) Individual and group research projects at the advanced level that are not offered in the present curriculum. Permission and project approval must be obtained from the faculty member prior to registration. This course may be repeated for credit, but a student may not exceed six hours of credit in Directed Research.

4336 Transportation System. (3-0) This course is an examination of the evolution of urban transportation systems, policies, institutions, and methods in the United States. Principles, procedures, and techniques of transportation planning in the State of Texas are covered and students are introduced to the literature in transportation geography and methods of transportation analysis.

4338 Land Use Planning. (3-0) A study of the patterns, characteristics, and impacts of land use at the local and regional levels. Also, how effective management through the use of such planning tools as the comprehensive plan, capital improvements, programming, subdivision regulations, and zoning influences the utility of land.

4339 Environmental Hazards and Land Management. (3-0) Analysis of environmental hazards with respect to human use of the land. Includes geologic hazards and problems caused by floods and meteorological conditions.

4340 Fundamental Themes in Geography. (3-0) Students will become familiar with the K-12 Geography Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) and the national geography content standards, identify instructional resources and materials, design instructional units, and fully develop grade level appropriate inquiry based lessons and student assessments.

4350 Solid Waste Planning and Management. (3-0) A survey of the methods of solid waste disposal including waste storage, collection, transportation and disposal, and their short- and long-range effects on the environment. A practical course in the planning, implementation, and management of alternate methods of sanitary waste disposal. Prerequisite: GEO 2410 or equivalent.

4380 Internship in Geography. (3-0) On-the-job training in a public or private-sector agency. Students must apply to the department internship director at least six weeks prior to registering for the internship course. This course may be repeated one time for additional internship credit.

4390 Independent Study. (3-0) Individual study under direct supervision of a professor. May involve field trips. This course may be repeated for credit, but a student may not exceed six hours of credit in Independent Study.

4391 Environmental Geography of the Yellowstone Region. (3-0) Group investigation of the physical and cultural components of the Yellowstone region and its resulting landscape. Emphasis will be on the interaction between physical and cultural systems.

4411 Map Design. (2-4) Concepts and principles about the graphic elements of a map and their role in the physical and perceptual structure of an appropriate map image. The course considers the importance of map design in cartography and geography and applied computer-assisted mapping techniques to the problems of effective and efficient communication of spatial data. Theoretical and applied aspects of map design are examined through a number of practical exercises and written assignments. Prerequisite: GEO 3411 or equivalent.

4412 Digital Remote Sensing. (3-2) Introduction to the digital image processing of satellite scenes including restoration, enhancement, classification, change detection, and mapping for environmental monitoring and inventorying.

4417 Digital Terrain Modeling. (3-2) The course focuses on the mapping, transformation, mensuration, visualization, and applications of digital elevation models in Geography. Prerequisite: GEO 3416 or equivalent.

4422 Computer Cartography. (2-4) The use of computer software to display information about the Earth's surface and various types of statistical data on maps and graphs. Prerequisite: GEO 3411 or equivalent.

4426 Advanced Geographic Information Systems I. (2-4) This course builds on the principles introduced in GEO 2426 and presents an in-depth examination of the technical aspects involved in spatial data handling, analysis, and modeling. Prerequisite: GEO 2426 or equivalent.

4427 Advanced Geographic Information Systems II. (2-4) This course presents students with the opportunity to work as a team on a GIS project. Projects will be designed and conducted by the class. Students will develop and demonstrate competence in using GIS techniques in a substantive application. Prerequisite: GEO 4426 or equivalent.

4430 Field Methods. (2-4) Methods and techniques for observing, measuring, recording, and reporting on geographic phenomena are investigated in this course. Students will learn the use of instruments and materials in the collection of data for mapping and field research in the local area. Prerequisites: GEO 2410 and 3301 or equivalents.

4440 Topics in GIS/Cartography/Remote Sensing. (2-4) Advanced or specialized techniques in geographic information systems, cartography, remote sensing, or other related topics. Specific topics will vary. Students should consult department. Prerequisite: GEO 2427 or GEO 3411 or GEO 3416 or equivalent. Repeatable for up to 8 hours credit.

Courses in Nature and Heritage and Tourism (NHT)

4301 Planning and Development of Nature and Heritage Tourism. (3-0) This course applies basic planning and development principles to the special issues of nature and heritage tourism. Particular emphasis is placed on locational analysis, site analysis, and planning for sustainable use.

4302 Internship in Nature and Heritage Tourism. (0-10) Students will work in private or public sector settings to gain practical experience in the planning, development and management of nature and/or heritage tourism. Internships must be approved by the director of the Center for Nature and Heritage Tourism. Students will be expected to perform at high professional standards and will interpret the internship experience within the context of current literature. Prerequisite: NHT 4301

Chair and Professor-Bourgeois. Professors-Andrews, Brown, Bynum, de la Teja, Dunn, Jager, Josserand, Pohl, Swinney, Wilson, Yick. Associate Professors-Brennan, Cagniard, Garner, Liddle, Makowski. Assistant Professors-Barger, Hart, Hartman, McWilliams, Menninger, Selcraig, Watson. Instructors-Atchison, Etienne-Gray, Hindson, Ingram.

As an undergraduate major, the discipline of history provides students with skills and knowledge valued in our increasingly global society and economy. Emphasizing both American and non-American societies, cultures, and politics, history imparts important understandings of human motivation and interaction, which form an essential background for all current activities whether they are in the realm of business, law, journalism, politics, or education. Students in history develop skills in intensive reading, expository writing, and logical and analytical thinking while learning how to communicate electronically.

Major

The Bachelor of Arts with a major in History is a general liberal arts degree designed for students interested in careers in high school or college teaching, government service, museum or library work, journalism, business, etc. A history major requires 30 semester hours, normally 1310 and 1320, 2310 or 2311, and 2320 or 2312, plus 18 hours of advanced courses. The advanced courses must be divided equally between Groups A and B as explained above. This program requires a minor generally of from 18 to 24 semester hours, depending upon which subject is selected. See minors in the Degrees and Programs section of this catalog.

Teacher Certification

Students wishing to receive teacher certification in History have three options from which to select:

1. History single teaching field. This option includes teacher certification only in the discipline of History; although a minor must be selected (see list of approved minors in the undergraduate catalog). This option in secondary teacher certification requires the completion of the following 36 hours in HIST: 1310, 1320, 2311, 2312, 9 hours advanced group A (Asian, European, Latin American, Middle Eastern), 9 hours advanced group B (American History), 3 hours advanced group A or B, and HIST 4380.
2. History two teaching fields. This option includes a History major and a second teaching field is required. This option in secondary teacher certification requires (33 hours) completion of the following courses: HIST 1310, 1320, 2311, 2312, nine hours advanced Group A (Asian, European, Latin American, Middle Eastern), nine hours advanced Group B (American History), and History 4380. In addition to the major and second teaching field requirements, students must also complete 21 hours of professional sequence courses under the College of Education: CI 3310, 3325, 4332, 4343; RDG 3323, and ED 4681 (Student Teaching).

3. Social Studies Composite. The Social Studies Composite Certification program is designed to prepare students to teach any of the four social studies disciplines (History, Geography, Government, and Economics) at the secondary level (grades 8-12). Students pursuing secondary certification with a major in History must select a minor from the disciplines of Geography or Political Science. In addition, students will complete specific courses in the third social studies discipline not chosen as a major or minor as well as HIST 4200: Social Studies Resources and Practices. Students must take ECO 2301 as the social science choice in the core curriculum, as Economics is another subject tested on the Social Studies Composite ExCET exam.

Upon completion of the social studies curriculum and passage of the social studies ExCET test, students will receive certification in social studies and eligibility to teach in any of the four disciplines. The Social Studies Composite requires completion of either of the following major/minor/third field combinations:

A. History major, Geography minor, Political Science third field. This option in secondary teacher certification requires completion of the following 30 hours in History: HIST 1310, 1320, 2311, 2312, nine hours advanced group A (Asian, European, Latin American, and Middle Eastern), nine hours advanced group B (American History). The minor in Geography requires (19 hours) completion on the following: GEO 1309, 1310, 2410, 3303, 3309, and 3329. The third field in Political Science requires (18 hours) completion of the following: POSI 2310, 2320, 4398, six hours from Group 2 (American Government), three hours of group 3 (Public Law) from: POSI 3310, 3311, or 4311.

B. History major, Political Science minor, Geography third field. This option in secondary teacher certification requires completion of the following 30 hours in History: HIST 1310, 1320, 2311, 2312, nine hours advanced group A (Asian, European, Latin American, and Middle Eastern), nine hours advanced group B (American History). The minor in Political Science requires (24 hours) completion of the following: POSI 1308 or 1309 and POSI 2310, 2320, 4398, and one advanced course from 4 of the 5 groups. The third field in Geography (16 hours) requires completion of the following: GEO 1309, 1310, 2410, 3303, and 3309. In addition to the major, minor, and third field requirements, students must also complete 21 hours of professional sequence courses under the College of Education: CI 3310, CI 3325, CI 4332, CI 4343, RDG 3323, and ED 4681.

Second Teaching Field

A second teaching field in History requires 27 semester hours: HIST 1310, 1320, 2311, 2312, six hours of advanced group A, six hours advanced group B, and HIST 4380. Students seeking certification in History must maintain an SWT GPA of 2.50 in their History courses with no grade lower than a C in each course.

Group A, Group B, and Group C Courses

Advanced courses in history are divided into three categories. Group A includes courses dealing with the history of Asia, Europe, Latin America, and the Middle East. Group B courses treat facets of the history of the United States. Group C courses are specifically designed for students seeking teacher certification in History. History majors and minors are required to divide their advanced courses equally between Group A and Group B. Group C courses do not fulfill the requirements for a major or minor in History.

Advanced Standing Examinations

Students who have a composite score of 23 or better on the ACT examination or who have a B or better average in 15 hours or more of college work are eligible to take Advanced Standing Examinations in HIST 1310 and 1320. In addition, talented students may earn credit by examination in 1310, 1320, 2310 and 2320.

Minor in History

A minor in history requires 24 semester hours, normally 1310 and 1320, 2310 or 2311, and 2320 or 2312, plus 12 hours of advanced courses divided equally between Groups A and B.

Courses in History (HIST)

Note: HIST 2310 or 2311 and 2320 or 2312 is open to all students regardless of classification. However, it must be understood that HIST 2310 or 2311 and 2320 or 2312 will not satisfy the legislative requirement in American history, and students majoring in fields other than history would be well advised to begin with HIST 1310 or 1320.

(WI) 1310 (HIST 1301) History of the United States to 1877. (3-0) A general survey of the history of the United States from its settlement to the end of Reconstruction.

(WI) 1320 (HIST 1302) History of the United States, 1877 to Date. (3-0) A general survey of the history of the United States from Reconstruction to present.

(WI) 2310 (HIST 2311) Western Civilization to 1715. (3-0) A general survey of western civilization from earliest times to the end of the 17th century.

(WI) 2311 (HIST 2321) History of World Civilization to the 17th Century. (3-0) A general survey of world civilization from the earliest times to the 17th Century.

(WI) 2312 (HIST 2322) History of World Civilization from the 17th Century. (3-0) A general survey of world civilization from the 17th Century to the present.

(WI) 2320 (HIST 2312) Western Civilization, 1715 to Date. (3-0) A general survey of western civilization from the Treaty of Utrecht to the present.

Advanced Courses-Group A

(WI) 3310 History of Europe, 1871-1919. (3-0) The background, the course, and the results of World War I; emphasis on imperialism, diplomatic alliances, nationalistic rivalries, and the Paris peace settlements.

(WI) 3311 History of Europe Since 1919. (3-0) The rise of Communism, Fascism, and Nazism; the background of World War II, and the post-war problems of peace.

(WI) 3312 Renaissance and Reformation. (3-0) The cultural, political, and economic changes that marked the transition from the Middle Ages in Europe to the modern period; special attention to the decline of the medieval church and the Protestant revolt.

(WI) 3313 Europe During the Old Regime, 1600-1760. (3-0) A study of European society and institutions in the 17th and 18th centuries with special attention to the development of absolute and constitutional monarchy, the scientific revolution, and the intellectual ferment of the Enlightenment.

(WI) 3314 Revolutionary Europe, 1760-1815. (3-0) A study of the dynamics of revolutionary change in France and the rest of the European continent from the period of the Seven Years War through the fall of Napoleon Bonaparte.

(WI) 3315 History of England. (3-0) The development of the English nation from prehistoric times to the end of the Tudor Dynasty in 1603.

(WI) 3316 History of England. (3-0) The English nation and the British Empire from 1603 through the modern era.

- (WI) 3319 Colonial History of Brazil. (3-0) The development of the Portuguese society in South America from the sixteenth century until 1822.
- (WI) 3320 History of Mexico. (3-0) A survey of the national period of Mexican history from the independence movement to the present.
- (WI) 3322 Colonial History of Latin America to 1828. (3-0) A study of the colonial period of Latin America from the early Spanish and Portuguese colonization to the beginning of the period of independence.
- (WI) 3324 Latin America from Independence to Present. (3-0) This course examines the history of Latin America from independence to present. Explores the challenges of formation and consolidation of the new states; of economic policy and development; the rise of Populism and the age of reforms; revolutions and revolutionary movements; and present challenges.

Department of Modern Languages

Phone: (512) 245-2360 Office: Centennial Hall 214
 Fax: (512) 245-8298 Web: <http://www.modlang.swt.edu/>

Chair and Professor-Fischer. Professors-Brister, Champion, Echeverria, Galvan, Jaffe, Ugalde. Associate Professors-Forrest, Sconza. Assistant Professors-Ditto-Harney, Locklin, Lugones, Martin. Instructors- DiMauro-Jackson, Moriuchi, Ortega.

The Department of Modern Languages offers courses in French, German, Japanese, and Spanish. Instruction focuses on the acquisition of proficiency in the foreign language and on the development of knowledge of the culture, traditions, and literature of the speakers of the foreign language. Majors in French, German, or Spanish complete 18 hours of upper division course work and may simultaneously earn teacher certification.

People proficient in a foreign language have always been in demand in both the public and private sectors. As communication specialists, they bridge the gap between nations and make possible the free interchange of information, ideas, and transactions. Career opportunities abound in such diverse fields as interpretation, international business, international law, foreign affairs, publishing, and teaching.

Majors

Students pursuing a Bachelor of Arts with majors in French, German, or Spanish must complete 18 hours of 3000-4000 level work and maintain a GPA of at least 2.50 to meet graduation requirements. Students who minor in French, German, or Spanish must complete 12 hours of 3000-4000 level course work.

Students majoring in French and considering a career in the professions should complete FR 3381, 3382, and 4370; students considering a career in teaching should complete FR 3310, 3341, and 4341; students pursuing the study of literature should complete FR 3305, 3306, and 4304.

Students majoring in German and considering a career in the professions should complete GER 3310, 3370, and 3380.

Students majoring in Spanish should complete SPAN 3308 (prerequisite to all upper division courses), 3309 (prerequisite to upper division courses in literature), 4340, two courses from Group A [3301, 3302, 3305, 3306, 3310, 3370, 3371] and one course from Group B [4302, 4330, 4361, 4350, 4370, 4380].

Students pursuing teacher certification in French, German, or Spanish must also complete Linguistics 4307, CI 3310, 3325, 4332, 4343; RDG 3323; and ED 4681 prior to student teaching.

Language Requirement

For the BA, a proficiency level of successful completion of FR, GER, JAPA, SPAN, or American Sign Language 2310 and 2320 is required. Students with substantial previous language experience may meet their language requirement by completing as few as six hours at the sophomore level. Most students will need to complete the first year of the language (1410 and 1420) before beginning 2310.

Students who have previous language experience are required to take a placement/credit test in that language on the first-class day in any first-semester class (1410).

Students who take the sequence SPAN 1410, 1420, 2310, and 2320 must earn a grade of "C" or higher in each course to advance to the next higher course.

Philosophy raises some of the most fundamental questions about our world and ourselves—questions about the nature of reality, knowledge, morality, God, and society. Students of philosophy study the thinking of major philosophers on such matters and learn to think critically and clearly on their own.

Since philosophy is the home of the study of logic and the principles of good argumentation, it lends itself well to being joined with virtually any course of study. Some philosophy majors pursue careers in business, journalism, law, medicine, and education. In these cases students recognize that the successful practitioner is the good thinker and turn to philosophy to develop their critical and creative powers. Other majors develop an interest in becoming professional philosophers and enroll in some of the nation's best graduate programs in philosophy.

Major

A Bachelor of Arts with a major in Philosophy requires 30 semester hours, including 18 semester hours of advanced courses. Majors must take PHIL 1305, 2311, 2312, and 2330. A minor requires any 18 semester hours of philosophy, including 12 semester hours of advanced courses.

Minor in Religious Studies

The minor in Religious Studies is an interdisciplinary minor requiring 18 hours of course work. Students may select among the following courses, some of which have prerequisites, to build their minor: ANTH 3305, 3332; ARTH 2302; ENG 3329; HIST 4318; PHIL 3317, 3318, 3319, 4388; POSI 3306, 4313; and all REL courses.

Minor in Value Studies

This minor allows a student with special interests in value theory to pursue a course of study which culminates in an independent research project in value studies. This project may be a study of a theoretical issue in value studies or something of an applied nature; students may affiliate with people in various work environments or service learning settings to identify value conflicts and suggest resolutions.

The minor is comprised of 18 hours of course work, three hours of which are lower division and met by taking PHIL 1305. Students satisfy the remaining 15 hours by taking PHIL 4388, for the independent research project, and four of the following upper division courses: PHIL 3320, 3321, 3322, 3323, 3324, 3332, 3333, 4350, 4351.

Chair and Professor-Opheim. Distinguished Professor Emeritus-Henderson. Professors-Balanoff, Garofalo, Gorman, Grasso, Hofer, Kens, Shields, Stouffer, Sullivan, Weinberger. Associate Professors-Brittain, DeSoto, Hindson, Hull, Leder, Mihalkanin. Assistant Professors-Castillo, DeRouen, Tajalli, Ward, Wright. Lecturers-Henderson, Parent, Sanchez.

Political science is the study of government-the most important decision-making part of society-and of the social, economic, and other institutions and practices that influence this decision-making process. On the one hand, it is a discipline that can trace its roots to the ancient Greek political community, the polis; but it is also a modern social science which uses techniques such as content analysis, public opinion surveys, and statistical analysis to create and evaluate generalizations about how government and people behave.

As a liberal arts discipline, the department is dedicated to developing analytical skills and promoting critical thinking. Students are encouraged to reflect not simply on their career goals, but also on what type of persons they want to become, and on their rights and duties as citizens. The department offers students the opportunity to earn up to six credit hours in an internship program in which students gain practical experience by working for various federal, state, local or non-profit community agencies.

Political science prepares students for careers in various fields, not only in government, law, and education but also in business, journalism, urban planning, and many fields on which public policies have a significant effect.

Major in Political Science

All political science majors must take a minimum of 30 hours in political science, including three hours selected from POSI 1308 or 1309. POSI 1308 or 1309 each serves as the prerequisite course for all advanced courses in political science. For the Bachelor of Arts major in Political Science, this minimum must include the required senior seminar (POSI 4399). Prerequisites for POSI 4398 and 4399 are at least 21 hours of Political Science.

Political Science majors must take at least one advanced course in four of the five groups listed below.

- I. Political Theory and Methodology
- II. American Government
- III. Public Law and Public Administration
- IV. Comparative Politics
- V. International Relations

Teacher Certification

Teacher certification is available under the Social Studies Composite certification. The Social Studies Composite certification program is designed to prepare students to teach any of the four social studies disciplines (History, Geography, Government, and Economics) at the secondary level (grades 8-12). Upon completion of the social studies curriculum and passage of the social studies ExCET test, students will receive certification in social studies and eligibility to teach in any of the four disciplines.

Students pursuing secondary certification with a major in Political Science are to select a minor from the disciplines of Geography or History. In addition, students will complete specific courses in the third social studies discipline not chosen as a major or minor as well as HIST 4200: Social Studies Resources and Practices. Students must take ECO 2301 as the social science choice in the core curriculum, as Economics is another subject tested on the Social Studies Composite ExCET exam.

The social studies composite requires completion of either of the following major/minor and third field combinations:

1. Political Science major, Geography minor, History third field. This option in secondary teacher certification requires completion of the following 30 hours in Political Science: POSI 1308 or 1309, and 2310, 2320, one advanced course from 4 of the 5 groups, POSI 4398, and six hours of Political Science advanced electives. The minor in Geography (19 hours) requires completion of the following: GEO 1309, 1310, 2410, 3303, 3309, 3329, and 4340. The third field in History (18 hours) requires completion of the following: HIST 1310, 1320, 2311, 2312, three hours advanced group A (Asian, European, Latin American, and Middle Eastern), and three hours advanced group B (American History).

2. Political Science major, History minor, Geography third field. This option in secondary teacher certification requires completion of the following 30 hours in Political Science: POSI 1308 or 1309, and 2310, 2320, one advanced course from 4 of the 5 groups, POSI 4398, six hours of Political Science advanced electives. The minor in History (24 hours) requires completion of the following: HIST 1310, 1320, 2311, 2312, six hours advanced group A (Asian, European, Latin American, and Middle Eastern), and six hours advanced group B (American History). The third field in Geography (16 hours) requires completion of the following: GEO 1309, 1310, 2410, 3303, and 3309.

In addition to the major, minor, and third field requirements, students must also complete 21 hours of professional sequence courses under the College of Education: CI 3310, CI 3325, CI 4332, CI 4343, RDG 3323, and ED 4681 (Student Teaching).

Major in Public Administration

The Bachelor of Public Administration major in Public Administration is an applied course of study designed for those who intend to pursue a career in government, non-profit organizations, or private businesses. The BPA requires 33 semester hours in public administration and political science. All students pursuing this degree are required to take POSI 1309, 2310, 2320, 3316, 3318, 3377, 3328, 4380 (internship). Three courses also need to be selected from the following courses: POSI 3314 (or 3319), 3320, 4322, 4357, 4361, 4362. In addition to the above courses, students are required to take 6 hours of History (HIST 2310 and 2320 or 2311 and 2312); SOCI 3353; and three hours of advanced Geography (GEO 3313 or 3340 or 4338).

Students are strongly encouraged to choose 12 hours of their free electives from the following career support areas. Although these courses are recommended for meeting the student's occupational goals, students are not required to choose their electives from these courses.

Local Government:	POSI 3319; GEO 3310, 3320, 3360.
International:	POSI 4345, 4356, 4357; ECON 3317.

Minors must take a total of 24 hours including POSI 2310, 2320, 3316, and 3377. In addition, they must take 12 hours from the following courses: 3310 or 3311, 3314 or 3319, 3318, 3320, 3328, 4322, 4357, 4361, 4362, and 4380.

Minor in Political Communication

Minors take a total of 12 hours of Political Science and 12 hours of Communication Studies. This minor is administered by the Department of Communication Studies. See that Department section of the catalog for more information.

Recognition of Student Scholarship

The Annual Professor Henderson Award: The Department of Political Science annually presents the Professor Henderson Award to the graduating Political Science major with the highest overall GPA (the awardee may be either a December or May graduate of the current academic year). The award has the purpose of recognizing and honoring a student of Political Science who has, as a student at SWT, displayed academic excellence and character in the tradition and values cherished and exhibited by Richard B. Henderson, Distinguished Professor Emeritus.

The Howard M. "Prof" Greene Award: This award honors an academic mentor in politics to Lyndon B. Johnson and thousands of other SWT alumni and goes to one or more graduating Political Science majors who have earned overall SWT grade-point averages of 3.9 or above.

Interested students who believe they may be eligible for these awards should consult with the Department Chair.

Courses in Political Science (POSI)

(WI) 1308 Basic Political Ideas. (3-0) Introduction to the fundamental ideas of the Western political tradition including conservatism, liberalism, socialism, democracy, and totalitarianism. These may include some portion or all of certain politically significant works of such political thinkers as Thucydides, Plato, Aristotle, Machiavelli, Edmund Burke, and others. (WI) 4359 Politics of International Economic Relations. (3-0) This course examines the institutional structure of interstate economic relations, trade and monetary regimes, foreign investment, foreign aid and development policies of governments.

General Upper-Level Courses

The following courses may be used to satisfy a requirement in any of the preceding groups, if specified on the degree outline.

(WI) 4379 Independent Study. (3-0) Independent reading and/or research on various problem areas of political science. Instructor will approve specific problem area, bibliography, and study paper outline. May be repeated once with different subject matter and instructor. No more than six semester hours credit in meeting degree requirements.

4380 Internship in Government. (3-0) The student will participate in the ongoing work of a selected governmental unit. A research paper dealing with the internship experience written under the direction of a faculty member will be required. This course may be repeated one time for additional internship credit. May be repeated once.

(WI) 4399 Senior Seminar in Political Science. (3-0) A seminar devoted to intensive reading, research, writing, and discussion which focuses on different sub-fields in the discipline of Political Science taught by appropriate faculty. Students in consultation with faculty in their area of interest should select a particular sub-field seminar in accordance with their needs and professional objectives. These seminars are required of all B.A. Political Science majors and must be taken in the student's junior or senior year of undergraduate study. Other interested students may take the course with the consent of the Department Chair and the individual instructor. Course may be repeated with different instructor and approval of Department Chair. Prerequisites for the Senior Seminar are all of the core courses in Political Science or approval of the Department Chair.

4680 Internship in Government. (6-0) The student will participate full time (40 hours per week) in the ongoing work of selected governmental units. A research paper dealing with the internship experience written under direction of a faculty member will be required.

(WI) 4398 Practicum in Political Science: Concepts, Resources, and Applications in the Study of Politics. (3-0) This course is designed to assure familiarity with the basic concepts and approaches used in the study of politics. Students will learn to identify, locate, and employ resources to assist in understanding politics at local, state, national, and international levels. Model Congress or U.N., visits to local government offices and councils, moot court, critiques of political propaganda films, and simulations in international relations are some of the applied methods of studying politics which students will learn. This course is required of all B.A. students with a teaching certificate in Political Science; it may be taken as a substitute for 4399 for Political Science non-certified majors.

Department of Psychology

Phone: (512) 245-2526 Office: Psychology Building 208C
 Fax: (512) 245-3153 Web: <http://www.psych.swt.edu/>

Chair and Associate Professor-Osborne. Professors-Archer, Davis, Fling, Frost, Ginsburg, Ogletree, Smallwood, Stimmel, Wheeler, Wright. Associate Professors-Czyzewska, Hulsey, Kerkman, Mendez, Merryman, Raffeld. Assistant Professor-Flores. Lecturers-Carpenter, Friedman, Rogers.

Psychology is the science that studies how individual people and animals behave. To psychologists, behavior means not only actions, but also thoughts and feelings. Beyond its introductory course, the department offers classes in individual differences, biological, social, and learned bases of behavior. Psychology majors take courses in these areas and in methodology. Later they may participate in advanced theory, individual research, and practicum classes to prepare for graduate schools in psychology.

To become a psychologist in clinical or industrial psychology requires a graduate degree beyond the bachelor's level. Many psychology majors, however, plan to enter jobs in business, government, health, and education immediately, with a BA or BS in Psychology. For more information to help you plan courses for a degree suited to your goals, obtain the "Guide for Psychology Majors" available in the department office, or on-line at www.psych.swt.edu.

Major

The department offers the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science major in Psychology. The Psychology major requires 36 semester credit hours, of which at least 24 hours must be at the 3000 or 4000 level. All four courses in Group 0 are required (12 hours). Choose one course from each of Groups 1-4 (12 hours). Students take twelve semester hours from ungrouped courses or other 1-4 group courses, of which at least six semester hours must be advanced (3000-4000 level). Students planning to attend graduate school are encouraged to take PSY 4318, 4391, and 4395.

Admission Process

Students who meet university admissions requirements (intended majors) enter Psychology as pre-majors. However, admission to the major itself and to the PSY 3301 and 3302 courses in Group 0 require:

1. Satisfactory completion of 30 semester hours, including the following courses or their equivalents: PSY1300 and 2315 and MATH 1315.
2. An SWT GPA of 2.50 in all course work taken at SWT. (Transfer students must meet with a departmental advisor early in their first semester to have their previous course work evaluated for admission, or permission to enroll in any courses with prerequisites.)

Following approval of the application for admission to the major, students satisfying the course prerequisites are eligible to enroll in Psychology 3301 (all substitutions for these courses based on transfer of credits from other colleges and universities must be approved by the Chair of the Psychology Department.) Satisfactory completion of PSY 3301 is a prerequisite for enrolling in PSY 3302.

General Requirements

1. PSY 1300, 2315, 3301, and 3302 are the foundation for all serious study of psychology; much material covered in later courses depends on a thorough knowledge of topics in these four. These courses are prerequisites for 3341 and all 4000 level courses, but students with advanced background in an area relevant to a particular 4000 level course may petition the instructor to have these prerequisites waived for that course. Majors and minors are urged to complete these four courses by the end of the first semester of the junior year.
2. PSY 1300 is a prerequisite for all other psychology courses.
3. Psychology majors are required to have a minor. See the Degrees and Programs section of the catalog.
4. MATH 1315 is required for all majors (MATH 1316 is not accepted as a substitute). See departmental advisors for higher-level math substitutions.
5. All majors must complete BIO 1320 and BIO 1421 (except Biology minors who must complete or BIO 1430 and BIO 1431).
6. For the BS a science minor or 17 additional hours of science and/or mathematics are required. These courses may be selected from ANTH 2414, 2415, biology (above 1421), chemistry, physics (including astronomy), mathematics (1317, 1329, 2321, and above), computer science (1318 and above) and geology.
7. For the BA, students are required to take two additional science and/or mathematics courses. These courses may be selected from ANTH 2414 or 2415, biology (above 1420), chemistry, physics (including astronomy), mathematics (1317, 1329, 2321, and above), computer science (1318 and above), and geology.
8. For the BA, students are required to complete sophomore level courses, 2310 and 2320, in a modern language; most BA students will need to complete 1410 and 1420 before attempting 2310 and 2320.
9. For the BS, students are required to take two courses in the same modern language (1410 and 1420). Students with prior language course work may want to explore receiving credit by examination for the modern language courses.
10. All majors must select courses in the major and throughout the curriculum to fulfill the 9 hours of Writing Intensive course requirement.
11. At least 40 hours advanced, numbered 3000-4000, must be taken. Of these, at least 24 advanced hours must be in psychology; minors and electives must be selected to ensure a total of 40 hours.
12. For the BS and BA, the core curriculum social and behavioral science courses must be taken outside the Psychology Department.
13. A capstone course, either in the major or in another discipline, is required.
14. For additional information, request a copy of the "Guide for Psychology Majors and Would-Be Majors" from the Department of Psychology.

Courses in Psychology (PSY)

Group 0: Foundations of Psychology

1300 (PSYC 2301) Introduction to Psychology. (3-0) A survey of the major principles derived from research on human and animal behavior. Topics studied include learning, thinking, motivation, emotion, personality, the senses, perception, and the form and functions of the nervous system. PSY 1300 is a prerequisite for all other psychology courses.

2315 (PSYC 2314) Developmental Psychology. (3-0) A survey of the psychology of human development from the pre-natal period to adulthood. Emphasis is placed on cognitive, motivational, and physiological processes of development in childhood and adolescence.

3301 Quantitative and Statistical Methods. (3-0) The application of elementary descriptive statistics, statistical inference, and correlation and regression of behavioral science data, with an emphasis on the relationship of theory and methods in the research setting. Prerequisite: Psychology major standing or permission of the Department Chair.

(WI) 3302 Experimental and Research Methods. (2-2) Introduction to laboratory equipment and procedures, with basic instruction in experimental design, data collection and treatment, and technical report writing. Several psychological experiments and research reports will be required of each student. Prerequisite: PSY 3301 and Psychology major standing or permission of the Department Chair.

Group 1: Individual Differences in Behavior.

3315 Abnormal Psychology. (3-0) An introduction to the study of abnormality: (1) issues in defining and evaluating it, (2) examples, (3) theories and research attempting to categorize, describe, and explain it, and (4) approaches used to prevent or change it when it is deemed a problem by the individual and/or society.

3316 Personality Psychology. (3-0) A comprehensive introduction to research, theory, and application in the field of personality. Individual differences and situation influences are examined concerning authoritarianism, achievement motivation, anxiety, intelligence, self-concept, interpersonal attraction, aggression, sexuality, and altruism. An integrative model is suggested for describing and predicting human behavior.

Group 2: Biological Bases for Behavior

3321 Sensation and Perception. (3-0) An introduction to the processes of perception. Topics will include perceptual measurement, the physiological bases of perception, basic visual processes, and basic haptic, olfactory, and gustatory processes.

4322 Brain and Behavior. (3-0) Research findings and theoretical concepts concerned with the physiological, anatomical, and pharmacological bases of behavior. Topics covered include the sensory systems, the physiological mechanisms of motivation, and the physiological correlates of associate processes such as learning. Prerequisite: PSY 3302 or consent of instructor.

Group 3: Social Bases for Behavior

3331 Social Psychology. (3-0) The study of how people influence each other. The course covers such topics as conformity, inter-personal attraction, prejudice, and aggression.

3333 Industrial Psychology. (3-0) The study of applying psychological knowledge and techniques to the modern industrial environment. Topics studied include employee needs, attitudes, selection, testing, boredom, motivation, anxiety, and job satisfaction.

Group 4: Learned Bases of Behavior

(WI) 3341 Cognitive Processes. (3-0) The acquisition and use of knowledge, contemporary research on perception, pattern recognition, memory, thinking, problem solving, and language comprehension will be considered. Prerequisite: PSY 3302 or consent of instructor.

(WI) 4342 Learning and Memory. (3-0) A study of the basic problems in the acquisition of responses, treating with such constructs as reinforcement, extinction, retention, forgetting, problem solving, motivation, and punishment. Major theories are treated through attention to classical experiments, but greatest emphasis is given contemporary research. Prerequisite: PSY 3302 or consent of instructor.

Ungrouped Courses

2311 (PSYC 2306) Psychology of Human Sexuality. (3-0) A psychological and physiological examination of the human sexual experience from conception through old age. Current research findings serve as a basis for study. Major consideration is given to the human sexual system, the sexual act, sexual attitudes and behavior, and sexual complications.

2350 (PSYC 2315) Psychological Adjustment. (3-0) The psychological principles underlying the nature of mental and emotional health and its minor deviations in terms of remedial and preventive treatment, and a positive program for successful adjustment within modern social contexts.

3312 Adolescent Psychology. (3-0) A developmental psychology course designed to examine the complex characteristics of human cognitive and emotional life during the period of adolescence. Emphasis is directed toward the basis of behavior, interpersonal relationships, development, growth, and motivation. Prerequisite: PSY 2315.

3313 Psychology of Adulthood and Aging. (3-0) The development of individuals in the post-adolescent period, particularly after middle age. Topics studied include social, psychological, and physiological changes and problems associated with the aging process.

Prerequisite: PSY 3302 or consent of instructor. (Capstone Course)

(WI) 4395 Individual Study. (3-0) Students design and execute original research, or engage in extensive fieldwork, in the field of psychology under the supervision of a faculty member. All students planning to attend Graduate School are advised to enroll in the course. Prerequisites: PSY 3302 and consent of instructor. May be repeated once for additional credit.

Department of Sociology

Phone: (512) 245-2113 Office: Evans Liberal Arts Building 233
 Fax: (512) 245-8362 Web: <http://www.soci.swt.edu/>

Chair and Professor-Day. Distinguished Professor Emeriti-Jorgenson, Newsom. Professor-Ellis. Associate Professor-Anderson. Assistant Professors-Dorton, Giuffre, Johnson, Majumdar, Trepagnier, Watt. Lecturers-Caldwell, Hickman, McCord, Miley, Mosel.

Sociology contributes both to the classic liberal arts tradition and to the practical application of the liberal arts to the world of work. The Department of Sociology provides academic advising and encourages all students considering a major in sociology to take advantage of these services. Suggested degree plans, while helpful in planning an academic schedule, should not be used in lieu of academic advising.

Majors

Sociology majors may choose the Bachelor of Arts major in Sociology, which prepares them for professional or graduate study in the liberal arts tradition, or the Bachelor of Science in Applied Sociology major in Applied Sociology, which provides practical research skills for students who wish to attend graduate school or to enter the work force upon graduation. Majors in both degree programs learn to conduct social research, to work with computers, and to enhance the practical skills of writing and analysis. Graduates enter a variety of fields, including law, management, education, the ministry, public administration, and human resource management in business, government and industrial settings.

The BA in sociology is the traditional degree for students interested in entering professions, including law, management, education, the ministry, public administration, and human resource management in business and industrial settings. As such, it is a pre-professional degree that includes courses designed to prepare students for professional or graduate study. Students who are interested in collecting, analyzing, interpreting, and presenting data on a variety of social phenomena may select the BA. An undergraduate major in sociology consists of a minimum of 33 hours and a maximum of 39 hours in sociology. All students under the BA are required to take SOCI 1310, 3304, 3307, 3308 and 3309.

The BSAS is a 36 hour major designed for students who intend to apply sociological principles and practices in governmental and business settings. All students under the BSAS are required to take SOCI 1310, 3304, 3307, 3308, 3309, 3318, 4690. The remainder of the course work should be selected with the student's career goals in mind. This should be done with the advice of the assigned undergraduate advisor in Sociology.

The following specialization tracks are optional for majors in the BSAS. The tracks are intended as guidelines to help meet occupational goals. It is not necessary to select a specialization track.

Business and Society-3319, 3324, 3327, 3328, 3344, 3353, 3363, 3370, 4330

Minor in Sociology

A minor in sociology consists of a minimum of 18 semester hours, including SOCI 1310 (or 3300). Twelve of the remaining 15 hours must be advanced.

Minor in Social Gerontology

Students who desire to build on an academic base leading to further study in gerontology or to a career working with programs directly or indirectly oriented toward older persons may select social gerontology as a minor.

A minor in social gerontology requires 18 semester hours including 9 hours from the following core courses: SOCI 1310 (or 3300), 3383, SOWK 4320, PSY 3313.

The remaining nine hours shall be selected from the following courses: SOCI 3308, 3327, 3337, 3383, 3384; SOWK 4320; PSY 2315, 3313, 3361; REC 1320; GEO 3350.

Minor in Studies in Popular Culture

The Studies in Popular Culture minor is designed to acquaint and inform students of historical and current trends in (primarily) American popular culture. Techniques of research, social meanings and consequences of popular culture are the major foci of the minor.

SOCI 3315-Popular Culture and Society is the only required course for the 18-hour minor. The remaining 15 hours are also advanced level courses and are to be selected from the curriculum offerings below. Courses for the Studies in Popular Culture minor were selected because they deal with significant aspects of everyday life ranging from mass media through the history of cultural trends and phenomenon. The courses selected deal with subjects that are influenced by and influence popular culture. Required course: SOCI 3315. Five courses need to be selected from the following: ANTH 3309; ENG 3309, 3326, 3329, 3331; HIST 3343, 3369I, 4361; MC 3355, 4382C, 4382I; POSI 4301; SOCI 3324, 3333, 3340, 3366; ARTH 3303, 4301; COMM 4307, 4321, and 4322.

Courses in Sociology (SOCI)

SOCI 1310 or 3300 is a prerequisite to all other sociology courses except SOCI 3300, 3327, 3333, and 3350.

1310 (SOCI 1301) Introduction to Sociology. (3-0) A survey of the basic concepts in sociology including social organization, culture, socialization, groups, and human population leading to the development of a sociological perspective of human behavior. SOCI 1310 and 3300 may not both be counted for credit.

2320 (SOCI 1306) Social Problems. (3-0) This course examines community problems, significant social issues, and disorganization in major social institutions in contemporary American society.

(WI) 3300 Principles of Sociology. (3-0) Survey of the discipline of sociology, including socialization, social institutions, collective behavior, urban and community studies, demography, race relations, culture, and personality. Emphasis on basic concepts and the behavioral science approach to the study of human groups. SOCI 1310 and 3300 may not both be counted for credit.

(WI) 3304 Sociological Thought. (3-0) This course is a survey of sociological theory from its origins to today.

3307 Statistics for the Behavioral Sciences. (3-0) The application of descriptive and inferential statistics of behavioral science data.

(WI) 3308 Introduction to Social Research. (3-0) The logic and basic techniques in sociological research. Prerequisite: SOCI 3307.

(WI) 3309 Qualitative Research Methods. (3-0) This course examines qualitative methods, including field research and focus groups. We will describe the major differences between qualitative and quantitative research, and examine the strengths, weaknesses, and ethical issues related to qualitative research. Students will be required to conduct a complete qualitative research project, including the collection and analysis of qualitative data. Prerequisite: SOCI 1310 and departmental approval.

3317 Popular Culture and Society. (3-0) The content of popular culture, including movies, television, genre novels, popular music, fads and fashion, sports, contemporary folklore, festivals and celebrations, clothing and body decoration, and related cultural material, is examined and analyzed for social significance.

3318 Computer Applications for Sociology. (3-0) This course introduces the student to some of the uses of various existing statistical software packages including proper application, limitations, and interpretations of results. Prerequisites: Three hours of statistics.

3319 Social Psychology. (3-0) The basic course in social psychology; the nature of the individual in society; the process of socialization; the human personality; personality and social adjustment; and social interaction.

3320 Population Dynamics. (3-0) A study of the composition of the world's population, focusing on growth, problems, politics, and controls.

3321 Suicide, Society, and Human Experience. (3-0) This course will offer a systematic approach to understanding the human encounter with suicide. Issues of theoretical concern are addressed. The course draws upon current and classic sociological research.

3324 Life Styles. (3-0) The study of inequality as it relates to occupational, educational, religious, political, and other social activities.

3325 Social Deviance. (3-0) Theoretical and descriptive analysis of the major types of deviant behavior.

3327 Multicultural Relations. (3-0) The nature and the problems inherent in racial and other minority groups, with special reference to the American scene.

3328 Complex Organizations. (3-0) The study and analysis of complex organizations, bureaucracies, and professions and their influence on individuals and society and its institutions.

3333 The Sociology of Popular Music. (3-0) This course explores the dynamic and interactive relationships between music, culture, and society. Popular American music - from blues, gospel, ragtime, jazz, country, and swing to rock, disco, punk, alternative, and rap - will be analyzed as reflections of culture, as society's "voice," and as a powerful instrument of socialization and social change.

3337 The Family. (3-0) A comparative study of the family in various cultures, both historical and contemporary, with attention to the family in terms of social organization, social change, and social disorganization.

3338 Family Problems. (3-0) This course applies sociological knowledge to common problems encountered in families: spouse and child abuse, elder abuse, catastrophic illness, suicide, unemployment, poverty, teen pregnancy, aging and gender issues. Worldwide traditions and norms affecting the institution of the family are also reviewed.

3340 Sociology of Sport and Leisure. (3-0) The theories and research in leisure and popular culture will serve as the broad framework. An emphasis will be placed on the sub-area of sport sociology, including such topics as sport and aggression, competition, children, women, minorities, professionalism, and others.

3343 Criminology. (3-0) The various theories of crime, the cause of crime, areas of crime, treatment of criminals through the courts, punishment, reform, education, probation, and parole, and means of crime prevention.

3344 The Sociology of Law. (3-0) This course introduces students to the function of law in human societies. Theories relevant to the study of law as a mechanism of social control and social change will be discussed. Law as a social institution, the training of lawyer, and their socialization into the role of lawyer will be examined.

3345 Violent Crimes. (3-0) This course takes an in-depth view of serial murder, hate crimes, research and the social development of such crimes. Strong emphasis will be placed on how society creates, maintains, and punishes such behaviors, relying primarily on conflict and structural functional paradigms.

3347 Juvenile Delinquency. (3-0) Delinquency in modern society, basic factors and conditions of juvenile delinquency, and the problem of delinquency control.

3348 Social Control. (3-0) An examination of the creation and maintenance of order in society, including socialization and institutions which respond to disorder. Included areas are education, religion, law, welfare, and medicine. Focus on law as both a mechanism of control and the basis for control in other institutions in industrial society.

3349 Drugs and Society. (3-0) A sociological examination of the social context of drug abuse with emphasis on the social factors, processes, and institutions that impact drug abuse. Applications of sociological theories and research methods will be studied.

3350 Men, Women, and Societies. (3-0) This course examines the relations between male and female roles throughout the world, including the United States, Europe, and third world countries. Special attention is given to changes in these roles and the consequences of such changes for societies, including familial, marital, and sexual relationships.

3353 Urban Society. (3-0) A study of urbanization as a social phenomenon with attention to traditional sociological studies of the community.

(WI) 3363 Medical Sociology: The Sociology of Health and Illness Behavior. (3-0) An examination of the social determinants and consequences of human health, morbidity, and mortality, including considerations of health institutions, organizations, professionals, and clients.
